It's all but over for the dogged Clinton but few commentators are citing the word that finished her chances, "OBLITERATE!" A word that carries every connotation the American people are tired of. WAR is no longer a winning strategy in the USA and for very good reason!

Sen. Hillary Clinton

The simplistic, incompetent, warmongering Bush regime has destroyed the economy the nation and any respect America may have had in the international community. The nation and the American people are ready for doves. Hawks have destroyed everything they've touched and have plunged the nation into a downward spiral from which it may never fully recover. Other powerhouse nations have been quick to fill the vacuums America has left while it pursued Zionist ambitions in the Middle East - who really gives a toss about Israel, it just isn't worth the trouble? Israel is without peer as the most troublesome nation on the planet!

From the illegal appropriation of Kosovo to the criminal war in Iraq nothing has gone right for Bush's USA - it seems God has blessed China instead! China has managed to extend its influence around the globe while America was distracted in the Middle East. China succeeded with its centralised, regulatory model, a paradigm that clearly proved superior to the decentralised, laissez-faire capitalism of corporate America.

China extended its influence around the globe in record time without firing a shot in anger. China succeeded with diplomacy and skill - let's do business! While America continues to sink deeper into the military mire it created for itself.

The only mission Bush accomplished was ruining the country. Hillary was extremely ill-advised to play the Hawk - the American people see China's business successes and contrast its SUCCESSFUL diplomatic approach with America's violent military failures. The winning message in these circumstances is one of HOPE and only Obama offers it.

Hillary and her strategists now have their sights on the vice-presidency, Obama beware! It seems Cheney ruling the nation from the vice-presidency has inspired Clinton.

War is the problem not the solution - we'll watch keenly how you perform, Barack. Be heartened by the fact that immediately after the Bush-loving conservatives of Oz labelled you the terrorists' friend, they were promptly voted into political oblivion!

Good luck, Obama - let's see if you can really deliver CHANGE!

Sen. Barack Obama
