

The Unified Majority of Nations

Russia and China have broadened their existing military alliance to include greater economic cooperation and support. Together with the developing nations of Africa, the Pacific, Latin America and Asia the new 'Eastern' alliance will form the most powerful economic bloc the world has ever known - that is progressive thinking and is worth contrasting to the violent contractionist approach of America and its allies.

Medvedev sees little gain in continuing Putin's policy of separating European nations from American influence, basic maths reveals that only a few nations continue to support the failed strategies of America - the Zionist/neo-con iceberg has struck and they are welcome to go down with the 'ship!'

The remainder of the world is screaming for support and the peaceful development opportunities that Russia and China are able to provide. The Iraq and Afghan fiascos have alerted many developing nations to refuse the approaches of the West and seek security and peaceful development with Russia and China instead.

Thousands of years of Chinese international trade has taught it that the soft, mutually beneficial, business approach works best. It doesn't require a genius to see the advantages of this approach; yet America and its Zionist influenced leadership persist with the barbaric, kill and plunder policies outlined in the Old Testament! It is hardly surprising that America is now unravelling as a result of pursuing these clearly counter-productive policies.

America today is beyond redemption; it has passed the point of no return, as presidential candidates McCain and Clinton vividly highlight! Even the best intentions of a sane leadership would be overwhelmed by the disasters - at every level of government -- created by the Zionist/neo-con leadership over the past decade.

The failure of America is a complete national failure; it is not confined to the perverse leadership, which is only a reflection of the perversity of the entire nation.

Some commentators continue to hold the view that it was China's brilliance and amazing deftness that won the globalisation war -- a 'war' that America imagined it could not lose! However, the facts all indicate that American incompetence, avarice, and extreme short-term thinking was responsible for its collapse - who in their right mind would attempt to run a national or international economy on credit ('air') for an extended period?

China based its economy on sound (and proven) business principles of production/manufacturing, trade, savings and prudent investments. The result was/is, as its double-digit growth figures highlight, victory! The entire world has witnessed the successes of the new Eastern bloc over the -- excuse the very accurate cliché -- DECADENT West!

A decade of inept government has exposed western 'experts' as jittering monkeys, liars and thieves who have only a failed model to show for all their (meaningless) chatter and grandiose ideas.

Developing nations have a very easy choice to make regarding their future prosperity and security - the reign of the 'bully' and his lackeys is all but over.

Medvedev has seen the advantage in joining the world's largest economic bloc, and we all know the most successful economies create the most powerful nations.

Traditional western imperial powers, currently led by a failing America, may be in for a very rude shock in the near future. The days of plunder and illegal territorial acquisitions are over.

The backbone of the future world economy will be formed from the developing nations of today. Peaceful, cooperative and mutually beneficial relations with China and Russia today will form the wealth and security of tomorrow. A definite improvement on invasive warfare, plunder and mass murder, don't you think?
