

The 'news' of the day, I just wiped my arse with it!

international / mass media / commentary

Where shall I start? It's all of one substance/character, managed and manipulated, vacuous, sensationalist, propaganda tailored for western empty-heads, isn't that right Mr. Murdoch? The 'wires' are overflowing with mindless excrement perfectly suited for a mindless western, shit-for-brains, audience!

Afghan Pres. Karzai receives 'croc' award

Let's start with 'news' from sunny Kandahar. As we all (should) know Western forces aren't faring too well with their wars of plunder. Amazingly local people seem to resent invaders and occupiers, so let's label them terrorists and us liberators - that 'little' inversion should satisfy the acutely aware fuck-knuckle yanks and Aussie slobs. Here's the headline, "Taliban driven from Kandahar;" now that's a real media gem, a claim worthy of a Rumsfeld or Cheney. Kandahar is the heartland of the tribal 'Talibs' and Pashtuns or modern Taliban; it is their regional capital city and has been for centuries! The headline suggests that 80% of the city's citizens have been driven out BUT note the first paragraph of the story:

"An operation by local and international troops appears to have cleared Taliban fighters from the outskirts of Kandahar, Afghanistan's second largest city."

Did I really need to stress the word "appears?" Are we all able to see how the 'news' is constructed to deliver a message not an accurate account of events? So much for the prestigious 'Financial Times' of London, you pathetic pommy wankers!

I'm not about to leave my tribal capital Sydney, Australia -- the home of the most obese population in the world - out of the picture. The story that hit the streets is, fattest nation in the world with "9 million obese" slobs in a population of 21 million, a world record if it's true. But a little research reveals the figure is closer to 4 million but that is no excuse or cause to celebrate at the nearest American fast (poison) food outlet! The new Oz waistline is a legacy of American neo-colonial eating habits - every nation has a cuisine that identifies its 'culture' and Australia is nothing if not a good American colonial outpost!

The new (deserved) slogan for Oz is now, 'Aussie Aussie Aussie, oink, oink, Oink!' Homeland of the mindless, servile, FAT SLOB!

The 'aggro' news of the day comes to us from Israel, how did you guess? The New York Times via the SMH assists the US/Zionist agenda with its headline, "Israel rehearses long-range strikes" - toilet paper sales in Iran have skyrocketed, not really but that was the intent of the propaganda. No one doubts Israel's madness or its ability to trigger WWII by using tactical nukes, bunker-busters, on an Iranian installation. However, the free world and Iran's powerful allies could not sit back and take such an affront. Russia and China have lost face in the Balkans, an attack on Iran would certainly escalate into a major exchange that could well see Israel obliterated - another instance of flagrant propaganda from the Western media.

But the 'croc' of the week goes to Afghan President Hamid 'can't even take a piss without NATO in attendance,' Karzai, who stated he would pursue 'bandits' into Pakistan as a self-defensive measure. With whom and what force we would all like to know? NATO/US intervention has ensured the region remains fragmented into fiefdoms run by powerful warlords whose main source of revenue is now drugs! You guessed it again, wherever America fights its wars of 'liberation' drugs become the major export industry and source of revenue! Coincidence you say, not bloody likely! From the Vietnam Golden Triangle, to the Kosovo heroin gateway to Western Europe through to Central Asia and Afghanistan, now the undisputed heroin producing capital of the world.

Think of Uncle Sam when someone you love overdoses - small price to pay for supporting American 'freedom, liberty and democracy' - now there's something you can really wipe your arse with!
