No need to remind the American public the economy is in RECESSION; the Georgian distraction hasn't succeeded with the savvy US public, has it? The Fed continues to print (unpegged) toilet paper money that you will soon be able to paper your walls with. The Iraq success story needs no embellishment; Bush's boys couldn't have done a better service for Iran by gifting it Iraq. Iraqi Shia have steadily removed minority Sunis from positions of power, while consolidating their own power base, effectively annexing Iraq to Iran. Even the puppet PM Maliki, has demanded that occupation forces withdraw from his nation.

Musharraf, lucky to evade jail

Independent thinking nationalist Pakistanis have ungraciously shown America's man in Pakistan, Pervez 'dictator' Musharraf, the door. Many questions regarding staged bombings, phantom terrorists and the real assassination of Benazir Bhutto, remain unanswered -- what will become of nuclear Pakistan?

Ferociously independent Afghanistan remains true to character and promises a war of attrition that occupation forces cannot win nor contain.

The Pacific is lost to Asia and Latin America has rejected the World Bank, IMF and American Corporations.

The Bush 'strategy' to provoke Russia stands as the most tragic error in foreign policy in the modern era. Attempting to enlist the support of European nations in this monumental folly is doomed to fail - notwithstanding European leaders will humour the Americans. The 'consequences' and 'punitive measures' threatened by Rice and Gates typify the idiocy of an infantile, simplistic, now failed regime that chose war rather than business as its course!

Why antagonise Russia and China when both nations were willing to form stronger bonds with the West - such a waste? Yet the Zionist, Old Testament guided US regime remains hell-bent on war and conflict as a 'solution.'

The two presidential candidates, Obama and McCain, submitted to a 'job interview' conducted by an Evangelical, Bible literalist, twit - pandering to psychopathology is not a solution it's part of the disease/problem. What hope a nation that panders to demented, divorced from reality, deluded fools?

The USA remains on course to ruination and probably oblivion - America is literally in (bad) DREAM mode.

Bush, Cheney and the neocons accept full responsibility. The courts will do the rest!

It's all down hill from here!
