

Howard's Terrorists

national / social/political / commentary

When forced to produce, what do we get? The same fanatic imbeciles that were paraded on the local media after the London bombings and some others armed with PVC pipe, 'sticky-tape and chewing gum'! Compare these outcomes with real bombings in George St. Sydney, in the seventies. Most Australians are aware that, like all other nations, we have always had our share of extremist fanatics, they can be easily located in mosques, churches and synagogues around the nation. There is nothing new in this regard; the existence of social misfits does not warrant the implementation of draconian policies on a national level.

Efficient policing under previous laws dealt with far more serious concerns and events than Howard's 'chewing gum' brigands. What a circus! Is there another nation that can boast a cowardly flea, supercilious prick, talking sphincter and pompous cream puff leading it to ruination? I doubt it.

The present Australian leadership is an insult to the memory of every Australian who has died in a War. The present leadership is an insult to every male and female who has ever played contact sport! Put plainly, the Australian leadership is an insult to the human race.

It's time Australia, time to wake up.

Postscript:

The present Australian 'opposition' is not an improvement or an option.
