

Reality aversion and rabbit hole logic

As the U.S. population labours under a mountain of misapprehensions and disinformation regarding the activities of its murdering, criminal government and the mayhem it has created at home and abroad, financial and other ruling cabals are orchestrating a bid for total global financial power - believe it! But rather than confront hard reality and PARTICIPATE in maintaining a healthy democracy - by demanding full accountability of all persons in positions of trust and responsibility -- what do the people do; drown in torrents of propaganda, lies, spin and Murdoch 'news?' Americans continue to labour under the false apprehension that turncoat Obama represents "change we can believe in!"

If Obama's line-up for the highest offices in the land does not indicate his REAL political position then his very public reversal on most of the policy positions that earned him victory should! Yet in fits of desperation and dissociation we ignore the 'great betrayer' and hard reality that we've been conned again by the same interests that have steered the nation since LBJ and Nixon - 'CHANGE,' my black, lying, arse!

Consider how, with the utmost ease, the FED and 'G Sachs' Paulson blackmailed Bush into pilfering the public purse to save the incompetent Bankers and Financiers that created the global collapse in the first instance - give us all a break! Sane people are not in the habit of extending assistance to thieves engaged in ransacking their homes, yet Paulson, with the utmost contempt for ALL thinking people, demanded that WE not only bail his bankster buddies out of the hole they dug for the entire world but surrender all powers of oversight and regulation (over how the package is utilised) to the bankers! This action is beyond irresponsible, it is outright criminal! The lack of conditions on the package/gift to insider bankers, should remove all doubt as to who really rules the USA.

GIFTING Paulson's buddies and Bernanke public money is an OUTRAGE, but who is offended? These men should be hanged from the flagpoles of the Stock Exchange not pampered and encouraged to wreak more havoc on the people while utilising the people's money to save THEIR OWN MISERABLE HIDES!

I am illustrating a point and demonstrating that nations fail from the bottom up not the top down, as is commonly believed; name another population in the free world that would tolerate such OVERT contempt and criminal audacity from ROGUES, CRIMINALS and DUNCES?

A few mindless American commentators have mistakenly labelled the government bailouts "SOCIALISM" but fail to comprehend that Socialism is nationalisation on all levels especially the areas of management and decision-making. Whatever these commentators choose to call the bailout it certainly is NOT socialism!

Bush's pathetic response in an interview regarding his submissive compliance to the demands of criminal Bankers was almost as lame as the 'response' from the population, to paraphrase; "what can you do when the nation's leading bankers, economists and financiers tell you to handover the money or face a total economic meltdown?" 'What' indeed, dubya?

The first response is to demand that all large financial institutions make public how they 'burned/thieved' the funds left in their trust and hold CEOs and other guilty parties to account in VERY PUBLIC TRIALS. Releasing held funds back into the economy would assist recovery far more than bailing out the rich. If those actions do not 'encourage' other bankers to resume trading and release liquid assets into the local economy then jail more of them until either the entire banking industry is nationalised or the economy is kick-started by the steady release of secreted funds into the real economy.

Whatever one does in such circumstances, acquiescing to blackmail is NOT an option!

[Do not imagine for a second we have relented in our pursuit of you or senior members of 'your' administration, Mr Bush. War crimes and other crimes against humanity demand that we pursue you to the ends of the earth if necessary. Unlike the spineless American population we never relent until justice is served or death intervenes, never forget it, you vile criminal scum.]

It is amusing to watch a pathological population in total denial, a government flounder and ruling cabals forced to gamble what is left of their assets. America is yet to face the full implications of the so-called 'credit crisis.'

This failure actually represents a failure of the most structurally important principles of the American ideology, the free market and the role of government in relation to regulatory measures and interventionist policies! Like the Soviet Union before it America faces inevitable collapse, which Russia has proven is not a bad thing! The sooner America realises that its unfair easily compromised ideology has failed the sooner it would be able to recover. However, unlike Russian realists, Americans prefer fantasy, escapism and denial, recipes for ruination in today's competitive world.

Russia was able to recover relatively quickly due to the fact that it faced the fact that communism was a flawed system. Capitalism is also flawed -- gaping disparities and inequities -- as the current crisis indicates but few alternatives present themselves to the mentalities that have preyed upon the masses and ruled for hundreds of years.

As all nations fail from the bottom up so they must overcome from the grass roots up.

The VERY FIRST steps on the road to recovery involve of course confronting REALITY and arresting known war criminals regardless of whether they have served in government or not! The nationalisation of vital assets must be complete -- allowing rogues and banksters to have their bailout cake and eat it is absurd.

The most important element in recovery is COMPETENT, REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT not more lackeys, puppets and charlatans. Either Obama is forced to honour his previous statements or he is simply removed by popular revolt. Those nefarious individuals that imagine they are able to constantly dupe and manipulate the public by proxy are dreaming!

January or late December will prove to be a very 'formative' period for America; watch the criminals play their last dramatic hand then arrest the criminals and restore DEMOCRACY to the nation.

We are ONE.

Peace.

You have good reason ..
