

Setting agendas and stealing debates ..

by budgie Tuesday, Dec 16 2008, 1:31am

international / social/political / commentary is an art form in which, it seems, few excel, nevertheless it remains 'the principal, most important' (I'm practicing American grammar) tool of modern, GLOBAL politics. The reasons are obvious; in a world of instant communications the 'battle for the dominant discourse' or rather for the attention/focus of the moronic masses is paramount - the future VIABILITY of Barack Obama is being compromised as I write due to the WORLD focusing on his GLARING DISREGARD of the war and other crimes against humanity committed by the outgoing administration!

Try as Obama's second-rate advisers might they cannot distract the public away from its fervent focus on RESTORING CREDIBILITY, HONOUR, JUSTICE and most importantly TRUST in AMERICA and its institutions. Holding the criminals in the previous administration to account is not only of vital importance it is clearly IMPERATIVE if America is to RECOVER and move forward - all notions to the contrary are not only erroneous but also extremely dangerous.

If future VIABILITY is desired the remnants of the geriatric ideology of the Cheney/Bush regime must be abandoned. Their antiquated and insular belief that traditional mass media and denial would be adequate in managing public opinion and afford them all the camouflage they required to implement their murderous policies proved to be dramatically incorrect. It was/is the public digital media that exposed their heinous crimes and threatens to hang them and their Bankster, Wall St, buddies from the nearest light poles!

The original title of this paper was to be, "The climate HAS changed, dummy!" [Watch me pull a rabbit out of my hat!]

Indeed the current panic to get "climate change" back on the agenda/air waves/wires is the second best spectator sport in town - the first is watching Bush shit blue lightning at press conferences in Baghdad! You see, the puppet took very ill-considered advice from his burnt-out handler, Karl Rove, who mistakenly imagined that one last 'mission accomplished' (some people never learn) victory lap of 'glory' would soften a public out for both their heads. WELL, if that wasn't the world's worst miscalculation since 9/11 and the anthrax letters; yep, the whole world - with the exception of Texas - KNOWS THE TRUTH and there is nowhere to run and nothing to do except perhaps plead for mercy.

Don't YOU think it amusing that the 'climate change' debate has shifted from its feral base to the 'college cut' capitals of the conservative world? Conservatives are pinning their last hopes on this discourse. They hope to marshall the world and create a new economy based on carbon trading, as the old economy based on theft and deception has died - shush, the sheeple might hear you!

The one major flaw in this plan is that 'tipping point' or the meridian of irreversible, runaway, climate change has already been breached - but don't tell the moronic masses.

The elites of the world have already drawn up contingency plans for future agricultural areas, fresh water supplies, energy sources/corridors and new transport/shipping lanes -- via the North West

Passage for example; but they have failed to placate the masses and appease their OUTRAGED sense of JUSTICE!

Every time Obama walks into a room or holds one of his cute video firesides, everyone's attention is FIRMLY fixed on that Irish/Kenyan black leprechaun dancing on his head waving a WAR CRIMES banner!

---

Cleaves Alternative News. <http://cleaves.lingama.net/news/story-1357.html>