

NASA Scientist -- Australia threatens life on Earth!

And we thought we'd amount to nothing more than a bunch of cringing, apathetic cowards led by super lackeys, Howard and Rudd!

Professor James Hansen, head of NASA's Goddard Institute, has written an open letter to the future president, Barack O'Give-us-a-Break, in which he states that Australia's HUGE coal exports and absurd carbon caps "guarantee destruction of much of the life on the planet" - tell it to the Coal Mining Lobby and their financial backers, you uninformed bozo!

It's astonishing that a respected scientist in this age hasn't yet realised that western politicians are PUPPETS to the Corporations -- writing letters to puppets is about as effective as pissing on a forest fire!

Obama is POWERLESS; the sooner people wake up to that fact the sooner EFFECTIVE ALTERNATIVES can be pursued. Here's a taste of Mr 'Hope and Change' in action; in the face of a humanitarian crisis in Gaza, Obama refuses to comment, however, he has no problem making profuse comments on the economy, the Mumbai terrorist attacks and Russia's response to Georgia's attack on South Ossetia! Your employers will require you to improve your presentations and lying 'skills,' Barack, you no-account, slave boy!

Regarding colonial Australia and its complete servility to Transnational Mining Corporations, Prof Hansen may have a point. Few Aussies are aware that Rudd's policies are actually a threat to all life on earth. Now let's extrapolate; Rudd was recently ordered to publicly support Israel's criminal offensive in Gaza, he utilised the same feeble American line that "Israel has a right to defend itself (against attack!)" Well, so do the Palestinians and the rest of the world!

Based on that 'justification' Israel has committed countless war crimes and other crimes against humanity; however, we must not forget that killing hundreds of civilians, including numerous children, is a justifiable act of 'self-defence!'

We now come to threat assessment and appropriate response. According to expert American opinion

Rudd is currently the greatest threat to the survival of life on planet earth! How much greater then the response in order to ensure the safety of our entire world?

Applying American and Israeli defence logic to Rudd, it would be incumbent on every able-bodied, responsible person to put a bullet in Kevin Rudd's head - the planet would thereby be saved!

This is what occurs when the people allow Corporate interests to hijack their democracies. The only characteristics required to lead Western nations these days are narcissism and unflinching compliance to commercial interests! It is clear from the above illustration that PUPPET leaders lack even the most rudimentary skills of reason and logic.

Well might we say God save the Queen, because nothing will save, Kevin Rudd!
