

Silver Lining: musings from the hacker elite!

Every 'dark cloud' has a silver lining and Obama is no exception. The first thing to learn about victory is NEVER LOSE HEART! So what, if Obama is proving to be the greatest traitor and betrayer since Benedict Arnold; the American Revolution survived Arnold, gained momentum and forged onward to FINAL VICTORY. How much easier to overcome a slick, TRANSPARENT, no-conscience, carpetbagger like Obama? Too bloody easy, mate!

Obama

We welcome the inauguration of the no-credibility, lackey President, in fact we can't wait. When the powers have become their own worst enemies how much less effort is required to eradicate the criminals that have hijacked our democracies? They attempted a very big 'number' with Obama. The 'PROMISE' - used here in the colloquial sense -- of hope, change and new things to come was so oversold and hyped that the level of disillusionment will be profound.

So, stick with it my lovelies, our time fast approaches! The popular sentiment/mind has already been subverted by the powers via Obama's MONUMENTAL SELLOUT. We therefore take this opportunity to thank the powers very much indeed; it would have taken us years of subtle manoeuvrings to affect the popular consciousness to such a profound degree. You people will soon learn why our victory is assured.

Years of insider nepotism ideological 'inbreeding' and EXCLUSIVIST insular policies have separated you from the natural selection process - it happens every time, read your world history, you dumb fucks!

If you think we enjoy this game you would be right, we thrive on it, we luv it! Raw nerve, speed and skill out-compete you at EVERY TURN! I was so close to you at Vic. Barracks, Mr Dick Cheney, I could have 'kissed' you, but we learned that PATIENCE, well thought-out strategies and planning win in the end, unlike YOUR impulsive, short-term and impatient for results, American methods!

Let me elucidate; the public is thoroughly disillusioned with puppet leaders and the cheap, DISHONEST tricks you employ to hijack government -- we can't thank you enough for exposing the entire game with Obama! You only maintain a semblance of control due to the social 'comfort level' remaining within tolerable bounds. However, the MAGIC 'no-comfort zone' is FAST APPROACHING and it harbours massive discontent which catalyses social unrest and upheaval. In other words it effects REAL CHANGE – get a foretaste, suckers!

You have sold the people a false sense of security, as your comfort level rests on untenable economic ground -- borrowing and credit or CREDIT and BORROWING; a very short term 'solution,' dummies! Out-sourcing and globalisation have also crippled you; PRODUCTION has largely gone offshore, thanks to the short term greed of corporate elites, excellent!

So, today you face bailing out the local economy with the only means left at your disposal -- PRINTING TOILET PAPER MONEY -- a 'strategy' the world would not tolerate for a minute. Economically powerful nations would dump US treasury bonds and dollar reserves so fast the printing presses would overheat! But you've made allowances, haven't you? Combine the production of worthless paper currency with a major 'event,' one that Colin Powell, Joe Biden and Madeleine Albright hammered out to your dumb-fuck, thick as bricks, population -- but to the rest of the world you are walking around with your dicks in full view!

You face the biggest gamble of your very short history, Uncle; will your 'event' attract an undesired response and see an end to you or will you succeed in creating enough confusion and havoc that the world would tolerate you printing your way out of trouble? Well, we are not confused, what leads you to believe others would be – everyone has primed nuclear arsenals at their disposal, and frankly nothing would give me greater pleasure! So give it your best shot, Wyatt!

Gee, as happens at times, this piece veered from its intended course, but who am I to question the intelligence that wished to make its presence known via my keyboard!

[Greetz to ALL the crewz but special acknowledgment to 'ferrite,' the digi-maestro of the world, nobody comes close. Our legions have now gone Uber!]

End Note:

I failed to mention our greatest weapon, which not surprisingly is YOUR dislocation from reality! Never before have so many Americans been so totally divorced from the REAL WORLD. People over there continue to talk of American 'leadership' – what! Ask dubya and Cheney where they buried the long dead corpse of American leadership, dream on!
