

The greatest victory of the ultra-right is our SERVILITY and moral PARALYSIS

WE ARE LED TO BELIEVE the Bush era is really over and that President 'Ebony Smooth' will save the US and the world – for fuck's sake, people! Are we so FRIGHTENED and desperate we are willing to swallow that load of pure unadulterated, divorced from the remotest semblance of reality, CODSWALLOP? [Does anyone know what a 'cod's wallop' actually is?]

I hope I have made the point! Now grab hold of your crotch/loins and repeat after me, "I am a human being with an INNATE sense of justice, morality and fair play and I cannot countenance the world's most destructive and heinous criminals walking free!" That will do for starters; we'll teach you how to tie nooses later!

But seriously folks, watching Obama, his administration and almost the entire American population avoiding war crimes issues would be painful if it wasn't so tragic and ludicrous! It reminds me of the story of the five-year-old boy who attacked and consumed an entire platter of chocolate delicacies prepared for dinner guests. After a good humoured apology to guests, the child's mother marched the hapless boy into the dining room and questioned him regarding the 'mysterious' disappearance of the sweets. The boy 'swore blind' he hadn't touched the chocolates, much to the mirth and boisterous laughter of the guests! The boy couldn't quite work it out until his mother placed a mirror to his face revealing chocolate smears around his guilty mouth and face!

In order to recover from the dire situation it now faces the world would hope that America finally rejects its infantile behaviour and faces, with a new sense of maturity, the responsibilities it MUST FACE. There are no 'ifs,' 'buts' or grey areas; America cannot do it alone – and you know it! Avoiding responsibilities PROHIBITS America's full integration into the international community. The charade MUST end NOW if the USA hopes to recover!

YOU, and the entire world know what needs to be done – arrest the criminals and hold them accountable, cease all (self)destructive behaviour and join the international community in a spirit of constructive cooperation. Do not forget that it is IMPERATIVE that all guilty parties are HELD ACCOUNTABLE for their brazen crimes. They, like everyone else, must pay according to the laws that have served CIVILISED society for centuries. Ongoing national denial and pretence would be counterproductive, to say the least!

We have nothing more to add except we wish you all the best on your road to recovery and earnestly desire that you return to the global community.

We are One

Peace.
