

Total Economic Collapse May Stir Masses but not in servile America

For the past four years contributors to this site have predicted total economic collapse – the death of capitalism in all its forms by 2010 – search the site; no more spoon feeding the useless!

Is it coincidence that military units have been called home for civil defence purposes? Consider the timing of seemingly unrelated events and realise that the current situation may have been pre-empted and possibly even orchestrated by a tiny minority that are attempting to centralise economic power. They tried before with the communist revolutions but Stalin put an end to that plan by murdering Trotsky (Lev Bronstein) and his cohorts. The bankers supporting that group quickly retreated and concentrated their efforts elsewhere, principally the New York and London financial districts -- never abandoning their vision, only postponing it!

One world government or the 'New World Order,' as it is known today, is the tantalising, ever alluring dream of the autocrats and ultra-anal conservatives (who else?) However, to implement their plan they must first cause mayhem and destruction on a scale not seen before, so 'fasten your seatbelts,' sheeple, you're in for the ride of your miserable lives!

Have you noticed yet? Obama is more of the same; the only real change Obama brought to the White House is skin colour! He will soon be known as mega-bailout-Barack! In fact, Obama is an accelerated version of the Clinton-Bush push; watch him bankrupt/destroy the nation and force a major (planned) crisis situation GLOBALLY!

You asked for it sheeple; by allowing the rogues to get away with (mass) murder and THEFT on a scale not seen since the beginning of recorded history AND REMAINING PASSIVE you have confirmed the agenda for the future. Understand this, if YOU DO NOTHING then it will ALL be DONE TO YOU -- that's how it works dummies, don't tell me you didn't know!

A few more 'experts' have chosen to speak out NOW when the collapsing economy is evident to blind Freddy; however, respect is due those who went out on limb and spoke out some YEARS previously – no names required they are not recognition 'fame-seeking,' insecure, narcissists; however, they/we are SURVIVORS and it pays to be ten steps head.

Referring to the economic crisis, the servile Australian prime minister, Kevin Rudd, said we are "all in this together;" NOT QUITE, Kevin. Social collapse suits us even more than it suits the elites you answer to; widespread social disruption can be exploited by anyone, how much more advantage to those trained to perform at their peak in crisis situations, Kevin? Sends chill winds through the corridors of power, don't it, mate?

By the way Kevin, how is it you haven't overturned all those draconian laws Howard introduced? Rather than return the people to open democracy you are pursuing contractionist policies by attempting to censor the FREE FLOW of INFORMATION -- that's a nice lackey!

We move silently and deftly through most of your 'secure' systems; 'clearance, special ops, sigs,' you name it, we have members and we function as ONE, the result of years of refining and working together. WE didn't settle for the scrap heap, gentlemen!

Perhaps we should give you fair warning, it's not gonna go the way you planned it, and do not forget, there's a 'light pole' with your name on it!
