What does it take for the current government to realise that Howard legacy, Mick 'dropkick' Keelty is a drunken incompetent, clown?

Incompetent drunk, Mick 'dropkick' Keelty

For those unaware of his latest idiocy, Keelty is claiming, in an attempt to excuse the abysmal performance of his elite pig force, that a brutal confrontation between two rival bikie gangs in a domestic air terminal, which ended in the death of one gang member, was a "well planned event!" Take note Sherlock; a brawl in broad daylight involving at least 15 heavily tattooed men in a busy air terminal, in plain view of the public and security cameras is 'obviously NOT a well planned event' - you gibbering, brain-dead, fuckin' IDIOT, Keelty! Clearly the brawl was the result of a chance encounter as a 'hit' would have been planned a little more discreetly, don't you think Mick, you mindless moron?

However, the responsibility of not removing a KNOWN drunk and incompetent from his position lies with the puppet PM, Kevin 'photo shoot' Rudd, who hasn't had an original idea in his life, notwithstanding the fact that he is incapable of leading a gaggle of geese, let alone a nation!

Numerous posts to this site clearly expose Keelty as an incompetent of questionable character. Keelty failed in his bid to enhance the election prospects of John Howard by attempting to 'frame' an innocent Indian doctor (Haneef) on terrorist charges; notwithstanding that Keelty spent $8.2 million of taxpayers' money trying!

Is there a Federal Attorney General in the House or anyone in government that is able to see the alcoholic nose on their stupid, vacuous face?

Those who wish to confirm the many warnings of Keelty's incompetence simply type his surname in the Scroogle search box and enjoy the now prophetic reads.

What hope a nation that is run by puppet politicians and drunken dropkicks? Answer, not much, Oink!
