

Fitzy under the whip!

national / social/political / commentary

Only political fools and the masses believe in conveniences and coincidences, Fitzy; watch your back (Labor and other) daggers are out for you!

While Kevin is conveniently in Washington, Defence Minister, Joel Fitzgibbon, is 'under the whip' in more ways than one. The latest attempted compromise relates to the Minister's relationship with a 'Chinese business woman;' we certainly have a wealth of information on that particular genus, especially the tall Asian wonder that hopped from one Telstra executive's bed to another -- accruing vital information as she plied her pussy for the homeland. It was fun watching her jump into jaguars driven by old fart execs and other chauffeur driven vehicles - they just couldn't resist; too fuckin easy, mate!

Defence Minister, Joel Fitzgibbon

[But it is the Americans that lost MOST to 'Chinese business women,' if memory serves. Before you try your little games 'Jethro,' be cognisant of what we are able to release compromising YOU -- it could even precipitate revolution given the current climate! Be aware of the consequences of your actions BEFORE attempting character assassinations over here, mate! And never forget that you are dealing with Aussie patriots -- Rudd is YOUR liability!]

I recall a chance encounter with 'dragon lady' one day; our eyes met in mutual recognition, is there no one that isn't an agent or 'analyst' these days!

However, drawing this type of a connection to Fitzy's 'friend,' Helen Liu, is a sloppy exercise in meandering!

We should put this latest character assault on Fitzy in context. The 'compromising event' stems from information that 'sigs' (the military intelligence/surveillance corps) have conveniently leaked. They are basing their claims/accusations on computer activity in the Minister's office, very tenuous indeed gentlemen! Notwithstanding that type of deep snooping by the military begs explanation - politicians usually have their IT systems installed and monitored by other government agencies.

It is no secret that Fitzy is extremely unhappy with the yanks; they placed the commercial interests of their armaments suppliers above those of the SECURITY NEEDS of their 'no better friend/ally, Australia!' - you know where you can shove those sub-standard Hornets, Jethro!

Our news for Malcolm Turnbull is that the sucker's purchase was made by HIS PARTY, in fact, by its former leader, Brendan Nelson - conservatives have a long history of servility and compliance with American wishes, as two extra US bases in the North indicate!

So Mal, please, shoot your politically besieged mouth off again and you may find not only Costello's foot in your arse but the entire nation jumping down your throat.

Joel Fitzgibbon is absolutely correct taking the broom to his John Howard crippled Department - AUSTRALIAN SECURITY COMES FIRST! You can tell that to lackey PM Rudd while he laps INSTRUCTIONS at the feet of the Americans!

[For fuck's sake, get a grip, Oz!]
