

Success beyond our wildest expectations!

In December of '04 a small group of poets, philosophers, linguists, historians, meditation/yoga experts, mathematicians and computer hackers, came together to work on a revolutionary new project. The radical nature of the project attracted sneers and condemnation from many at the time. Nevertheless, it was eventually approved, funded and given external assistance whenever the group required.

The plan was radical to the extreme; next to it all previous undertakings appeared tame, almost schoolish! The objective was to reverse, in the most profound manner possible, the traditional ideological, cultural and social direction of the USA – a tall order which was made all the more difficult as we would be restricted to the use of only one major tool, LANGUAGE! But as former Defence Secretary Rumsfeld once stated, “you go to war with the military you have, not the one you would like to have!” And of course you go to war in entirely the wrong location to compensate for an inadequately equipped military! But that’s an old familiar story!

Notwithstanding the limited ‘weapons’ in our armoury, it soon became apparent why this motley crew had been assembled. Language it turned out, was the only weapon required to fulfil mission requirements and achieve our objective, provided it was utilised EFFECTIVELY!

Due to its ubiquitous/pervasive nature and the constraints we faced, we soon realised it was the PERFECT weapon for our needs.

After the usual briefings and familiarisation protocols, the team OUR team, set to work. We were as One in mind and spirit and failure was not an option!

We hoped to transform the world’s most expansive liberal democracy into a CONTRACTIVE, fearful, oppressed, totalitarian, criminal, terrorist State! And if I may pre-empt the result, the success of our endeavours is plain for all to see!

Today the USA is a mere shadow of its former self, thanks to a keen group of exceptional specialists. The one-time liberal democracy is now set on an irreversible course to something resembling a Nazi or Stalinist State and nothing can prevent the inevitable occurring!

[Due to space and time constraints I must abandon short story mode and cut directly to the chase.]

Our western trained semioticians were assisted in their task by an awesome concept, known as ‘Matrika Shakti;’ a philosophical concept from India! The concept or expression loosely translates as the ‘power inherent in [alphabetical] letters’ [to alter consciousness/mind/culture/reality via the conduit or medium of LANGUAGE.]

Language as we all know is the ‘fertile soil’ in which ALL cultures take root, grow and flourish! Language creates culture not the reverse that is the reason certain interests go to such absurd lengths to disguise what they really do by using innocuous terms or euphemisms – torture easily becomes ‘waterboarding’ in cultures that have much to hide or habeas corpus becomes ‘preventive detention,' regardless of the presumption of innocence in Civil Law!

But to return to the specifically Tantrik philosophical concept of Matrika Shakti; it seems western semiotics has a one-thousand-year-old heritage in the East.

According to Tantra Philosophy [see pdf] those who have mastered or 'possess' Matrika Shakti, gain control over the entire phenomenological universe – the current reversal of American values offers ample PROOF to the effectiveness of the claim! In other words, and remaining in context, altering the course and character of a nation becomes a trifling matter if one possesses control over the entire phenomenological universe (or Maya!)

The theory is simple; the affective power (agents) of language are the UNITS of sound/vibrational root utterances the alphabetical letters of language represent! Language is at once appreciated as sign, symbol and sound, as indicated by the alliterative combination of words -- western semioticians have generally overlooked the material component of sound!

It should be stated that language is here used in its total textual sense; a bark tree is included as well as its linguistic signifier 'tree;' what should be noted is the manner in which the signifier affects the character of the 'actual' bark tree or that which is signified!

It is known that the Inuit people possess over a dozen linguistic signifiers for snow, whereas non-native people have only one limited signifier for 'snow.' The limited appreciation of non-natives may explain the lack of sensitivity to subtle harmonies and mutually-affecting relationships found in nature – our devastated environment is testimony to the fact; it should be noted that Western cultures are primarily responsible for the pollution that has created the climate crisis! [Personally I would demand reparations, as it is easily proven!] A coalition of hundreds of affected and INSISTENT nations should reap rewards!

The effect language has on consciousness/perception is dramatic; the subtle depths/levels and manner in which language functions in consciousness is largely unknown in the West but not so in the East.

The Mongols once vanquished the Occidental West with superior KNOWLEDGE, technology, strategy, values and SKILL – the West had no answer for the tactics, discipline and SKILL of the Mongol armies. Today a similar situation arises but with the most unlikely of 'weapons.'

The West has again been completely vanquished by superior strategies and SKILL. Eastern methods have been applied successfully to alter the course of the once most powerful nation on the planet; today America ranks behind the Sino-Russian/BRIC/SCO group and alliance – further evidence of the effectiveness of the method!

It was a simple matter to make ourselves known to the NSA, other government agencies and some corporate think tanks – once we had their ATTENTION the rest was relatively easy. [See 'The American Dream,' (link below) note the date of publication and wonder no longer what happened to your freedom of movement and 'private' conversations!] Needless to say that minor revelation is 'not the half of it!'

America today stands defeated yet is unaware of the fact – in a few short years a profound tragedy has occurred in the USA yet the people are immobilised and remain in torpor! Truly the American people are FIT FOR THEIR (future) SLAUGHTER, one that will occur from within! How many completely INNOCENT citizens are now on the 'terrorist' watch list, over one million and COUNTING? Yet the population remains passive - for reasons very clear to us but blurred to YOU!

The contractive US leadership has undergone a complete psychological transformation - the USA today is 180 degrees from its former position. That dramatic REVERSAL occurred in just a few short years - quite an achievement if we do say so ourselves!

If we combine the results of non-provoked 'outsourcing' with our methods of turning the HUGE American surveillance apparatus onto itself, American LUNACY becomes all too clear! 'Outsourcing' (GIFTING) the Banking and Financial sectors to us was an unexpected bonus - who else would entrust their family jewels to the hands of strangers. Try and comprehend the tremendous predicament you have created for yourselves -- we now romp undetected in almost every major US computer network.

It must feel odd knowing that you no longer have control of your most precious means of manipulation - FINANCE and BANKING! The tragic joke is on you gentlemen and your completely paralysed population.

Other coded, subliminal and overt semantic/semiotic triggers are dispersed throughout this site; we have proven once again the superiority and effectiveness of patience, persistence stoicism and bending to a strong wind when necessary!

In five short years hundreds of our trainees now operate deep within your institutions and networks in ways you are not able to detect or fathom - our REALITY is now part of your Dream!

Even your decision to launch may not be your own - what a day for an American dream!
