

Yes, They Would!

Nobody with half a brain believes the official 9/11 report

Which begs the obvious question -- images of falling bodies firmly in mind - would 'they' kill their own citizens to consolidate their hold on power and wealth? The answer is also obvious, we need only refer to the title, YES, THEY WOULD!

Look carefully

Every 'well planned' crime is usually brought undone by simple oversights; the bigger the crime the more mistakes/evidence it generates. Consider the overkill of the (military lab) anthrax letters hot on the heels of 9/11; or the outrageous plant of the flying manual written in Arabic left conveniently in a parking lot at Boston airport!

There are hundreds more examples (WTC7) of the most botched crime of the century. Where is (all) the footage from DOZENS of CCTV cameras confiscated in and around the Pentagon that must have recorded the 'plane' impacting the building? The release of ONE very dubious tiny clip by the authorities hardly allays suspicions! Release the numerous clips taken at various angles and vantages if you would convince a very sceptical WORLD!

Certain anomalies alert all minds but trained specialists are particularly sensitive to classic 'indicators,' the most well known in this regard is quoted from Shakespeare, "methinks he doth protest too much," which is indicative of guilt! Ripples in an otherwise smooth scenario attract the attention of specialists and analysts from numerous fields and disciplines especially with regard to the IMPLAUSIBILITY of the government report!

It was a textual analyst (semiotician) who exposed the feeble attempt to connect the anthrax letters to Islamists - it was proven and confirmed (chemical signature) later that the anthrax originated in a US military laboratory - the best laid plans of mice and men!

Since the above exposé, which proved most unfortunate for the chemical engineer at the government lab, MORE damning evidence has come to light. Nano-thermite -- a steel cutting substance used in demolition -- has been discovered at ground zero. The nano form of thermitite is a high-tech substance also manufactured at the above mentioned (anthrax) military laboratory. But it's really about expert opinion and CREDIBILITY isn't it? 'Irrefutable' evidence must be backed by EXPERT or PROFESSIONAL opinion if the public is to be convinced.

The current 'indicator' that turned a few specialist heads in the 9/11 direction once again came from the President of the United States, B H Obama! The 'clanger' Obama dropped during his contextually jarring speech in Cairo was the undisguised reference to conspiracy theories relating to 9/11 - where did that one come from we may well ask!

It seems that recent irrefutable evidence of demolition material (nano-thermite) discovered at ground zero and the HUNDREDS of PROFESSIONAL ENGINEERS, ARCHITECTS, SCIENTISTS, PHYSICISTS, WHO ALL CLAIM THAT THE GOVERNMENT STORY IS IMPLAUSIBLE is making those responsible a little nervous! What the culpable do not know is that EVERYTHING they say, regardless of how well or poorly constructed, speaks volumes to trained specialists; notwithstanding that most laypeople are aware of the adage, 'every question begs its own answer;' so too, 'every lie points directly to the TRUTH it attempts to misrepresent!' Addendum:

The "they" referred to above are not faceless, mysterious, shadow governments; they are bold, arrogant psychopaths, brazenly displaying their contempt for the masses when the opportunity presents. If you wish to locate these individuals start with the Council on Foreign Relations, Trilateral Commission, Bilderberg Group, Carlyle Group and anyone else that deals with MEGA amounts of money or wields massive influence.

'There are no mysteries in this universe, only ignorance!'
