

Lies before the inevitable Fall

international / social/political / commentary

This week's events are big enough to warrant a short commentary. From Obama's rancorous lies and disinformation to the pathetic Australian government's inept and transparent bullshit regarding appropriating -- on Murdoch's orders -- the national telecommunications infrastructure. 'Poor' Rupert is losing income hand over fist and is attempting to recover by taking control of the nation's telecommunications infrastructure. He seeks to eliminate or control competition, prevent peer file transfers (movies and music) and introduce fees for accessing his internet 'news' services! Of course none of this can succeed without limiting, filtering or outright blocking other viable FREE news sites on the internet but in order to succeed he must control the infrastructure -- isn't that right, Communications Minister Conroy?

Most would recall Obama's speech this week 'warning' Wall St Banksters that the "tax-payer" would no longer "break their fall" in the event of another collapse! That SHAMELESS black PUPPET was not very convincing! The tens of Trillions required to prop up the thieves and rogues on Wall St and stem a major global depression is furnished by the rogue of all the rogue bankers, the privately owned Federal Reserve 'Bank' or to be specific, its printing presses! The Fed is currently printing money like toilet paper -- how does it feel Russia and China? Taxpayers only have pennies to play with!

Trillions and trillions of worthless dollars are printed to service the astronomical debt accrued by government fighting wars, building bases and generally doing the bidding of Corporatists -- what's wrong with this picture? Answer: Joe is paying Tom to pay Joe -- the taxpayer has nothing to do with it! But puppet Obama would like us all (especially China) to believe that the American taxpayer will be 'good for the debt' -- not only impossible but completely IMPLAUSIBLE -- the TRUE DEBT IS ASTRONOMICAL; green shoots my arse! Everyone with a brain knows it -- get ready for the biggest run in history!

It's a SCAM, probably the biggest financial scam in history but the criminal lunatics behind the scam believe they are capable of hiding an elephant behind a straw -- so far the only people buying this shit are the ill-educated, misinformed, dumbfuck, American public!

Meanwhile, western governments with monies lent to them via the US Fed are spending BIG to keep their respective economies afloat -- why? Because Capitalism is DEAD; the system has failed!

The privately owned Fed hopes that compliant western governments continue to spend their loaned 'stimulus packages' -- $1.2 trillion in the case of Australia -- and indebt themselves with the Fed's toilet paper money so that Corporatists are able to plunder the REAL ASSETS of indebted nations in return; uranium, natural gas, oil and anything else of REAL value -- not a bad arrangement if YOU are in the toilet paper business!

Meanwhile the shit-eating, mindless masses continue on their journey to catastrophe -- where else do YOU think this formula ends? See if you can work the rest out for your selves.
