

Life Imitates Bad Sci-Fi Movie

A completely servile US president is currently distracting the public with intimations of (Bank) reform while minority ruling ELITES pull off another MAJOR COUP - you dumb, anaesthetised, DISTRACTED fuck's - no apologies! The US Supreme Court has just handed down a decision allowing 'Corporate Entities' the same rights under the First Amendment as living citizens; which effectively allows CORPORATISTS to buy government, and by extension, the LEGISLATIVE PROCESS or LAW! 'Say goodbye to 'Hollywood,' nightmare fantasy has just become REALITY!

LIFE has become a nightmare Sci-Fi movie of Corporate rule with no restrictions, which translates into a hellish, polluted earth barely able to sustain life and misinformed slave populations given cheap thrills, stupefying drugs and the bare necessities to sustain production for the ELITE few -- the descendants of those that choked the LAST BREATH out of democracy!

Think about today's reality before you dismiss this assessment and you will realise that you don't have to be Nostradamus to see the future:

Robots/drones fighting wars, climate catastrophe, massive famines, runaway pollution, scarcity of food and drinking water ('Frankenfoods' and animals), massive extinctions, dead oceans with permanent rafts of floating debris etc, and on it goes, NONE of it GOOD! And it's happening in OUR PARALYSED FACES, even as I write! An Aussie expression referring to a person's complete and utter uselessness, desolation, hopelessness and apathy, goes something like this; "he couldn't do it to save his life!"

The above denigrating expression now applies to the masses of the world! I never imagined that it would come to this in my lifetime, but it surely has. It is the beginning of the end, no doubt whatsoever.

In the absence of any EFFECTIVE INTERVENTION BY THE PEOPLE to IMMEDIATELY REVERSE current TRENDS, restore DEMOCRACY and HEAL the WORLD, the future is ALL BAD!

Well, I'll go out as I came in, FIGHTING for an equitable, sustainable future for everyone! As for the rest of you, thanks for allowing white-collar criminals of less than average intelligence to FUCK EVERYTHING!

And to think only American Sci-Fi movies are negative. 'Solaris,' directed by Andrei Tarkovsky, a personal favourite, questions the foundations of our beliefs, notions of 'reality,' the status quo and reveals that our ENTIRE REALITY is created by the interaction of our CONSCIOUSNESS on the plastic medium of the WORLD/UNIVERSE; the simple message is we are completely responsible for our own lives and the realities we create -- a message LOST on today's DOCILE populations, it would seem.
