

Deconstructing Australia's Puppet Politicians

Before proceeding, I would openly state that Australia today is nothing more than a client state of the U.S. Former PM (and criminal) Paul Keating surrendered the last vestiges of Oz independence to Wall St criminal elites and the corporate sector decades past.

Stephen 'kneepads' Smith

The servile (to Washington) Oz 'leaders' that have followed Keating -- Howard and Rudd -- are deserving of the utmost contempt from all freedom loving Australian patriots; never has this nation seen the likes of such brazen sycophancy and servility as that shamelessly displayed by John 'aluminium tubing' Howard and Kevin 'custard face' Rudd!

The level of cowardice and subservience these 'men' display to their corporate overlords is truly gut-churning. They deserve the contempt of every independent thinking, red-blooded, Aussie patriot alive today and yet to born -- the historical record will condemn these lackey cowards for generations to come.

Following is just one example of the pathetic ineptitude and cowardly servility of one of Rudd's ministers, FM, Stephen 'kneepads' Smith, so named after his very public crawling to former U.S. Secretary of State, Condi Rice, in Washington. I would add that Rice could not contain a mocking, very public laugh at Stephen Smith's expense, so servile and demeaning was his performance in Washington. The world was watching Smith, you wet squirt of chicken shit!

The following interview was conducted by ABC Lateline host, Ms Leigh Sales, who has also earned, for her flagrantly pro-American reportage, the wrath of contributors to this site.

I would like to remind everyone that Aussies that do not suck arse continue to fight and influence the direction of this fair nation -- I hope this little demonstration furnishes proof of the claim:

Excerpt from Lateline transcript (link below):

LEIGH SALES: OK. Alright, let's move on to a couple of other things I want to discuss before you go. Mr Smith, why do you think that there's a perception that you're a weak foreign minister?

STEPHEN SMITH: Well, Leigh, I don't respond to reviews that I see and I certainly don't respond to anonymous reviews and I'm very happy for your viewers and the general public to make their own judgments, unassisted by anonymous reviews about how the Government is going in foreign policy, and for that matter, how they judge my own performance. For my part, I'm very pleased that the progress we are - I'm very pleased about the progress we are making in advancing our foreign policy priorities. And I'm happy to let the community make their own judgments. [Emphasis added]

O my, how revealing! We should never forget that our hapless, incompetent politicians are chosen (lunch in New York) NOT for their ability but for their servility, isn't that right, Rupert?

Please note that all content that refers to Smith as a 'knee-walking,' servile, sycophant is carefully removed from the privately owned mainstream media; Sales is clearly referring to the Alternative News Media, perhaps even to this site - LOL -- where she has 'copped a bit of swish' herself!

Take note dear reader, no PRIOR reference in the interview was made to any 'anonymous reviews or weakness;' we are left to conclude that the 'interview' was either orchestrated or Smith is very easy to extract useful information from - a very bad characteristic for a Foreign Minister. Imagine this idiot spilling the beans at every gathering attended by foreign diplomats and trading partners -- Stern Hu is paying the price for Smith's incompetence today and for 10 more years to come!

Allow me to emphasise that the most derisive copy of Australia's tragic and pathetically "weak" political leaders is to be found on this site! Very few Alternative Media outlets in Oz specialise in anonymously written content. Smith, without the slightest goading or pressure reveals his personal reading habits, perhaps we should be flattered instead of alarmed at the tragic ineptitude and ease with which information is extracted from our inept leaders.

It becomes apparent -- confirmed by user logs and traces our hacker elite perform -- that Smith, Rudd and numerous other politicians regularly read material on this site. It should also be noted that contributing authors intentionally give our pollies characteristic and distinctive nick names to allow easier identification and monitoring of web search engines. Examples, which Google has long since CENSORED/removed, include Kevin 'photo-op' 'show pony' 'custard face' 'hair dryer' Rudd, 'kneepads' Smith, 'backflip' Garrett and John 'aluminium tubing' Howard - there is no shortage of amusing and accurate labels for all our treasonous, lackey politicians on this site.

Wonder no longer how Corporatists rule this nation [by proxy] and the calibre of the 'men' they choose to do their bidding.

Today, civilised remedies are a luxury, there simply is too little time and too much at stake to pursue traditional remedial approaches - we should not forget that treason has for centuries incurred the death penalty.

In view of the FACT that John 'pea-heart' Howard has never been held to account for his overt (now exposed) lies and participation in the illegal invasion of Iraq, which resulted in the first civilian holocaust of the new century, we have no illusions regarding a negative outcome if a remedy was sought via corrupt State Institutions.
