

Rudd earns the ire of Aussies

national / social/political / commentary

In perhaps one of the worst examples of cynical politics this nation has seen, incumbent Australian PM, Kevin 'show pony' Rudd, is attempting to distract the attention of the population away from his ruinous policy failures by implementing minor tax and health reforms and attacking the 'soft target,' tobacco industry. However, the list of Rudd's failures, which range from Japanese whaling, ETS, computers for every student, home insulation debacle, 'borderless' security and indebting OUR nation and future generations to nefarious foreign Banksters (stimulus) that print 'fiat' (toilet-paper) money in exchange for our REAL assets, are far too prominent to be ignored or brushed away. Rudd's track record does not exactly fill one with confidence; we now know that Rudd is less concerned with positive results than he is with appearances, distractions and political trickery.

Kevin 'censorship' Rudd

If the exchange of worthless fiat paper money (stimulus) for our tangible assets, iron ore, uranium, gold, etc doesn't enrage you and drive you to buy a sniper rifle then add the FACT that Rudd, on orders from BIG finance and Wall St bankers, accepts ONGOING DEBT (via stimulus spending) WITH INTEREST on worthless fiat paper! The effect of course is an enslaved nation that is easily exploited for generations to come.

This treasonous, spineless, Queensland lackey to Corporatist America, Murdoch and Transnational Mining Corporations dares treat the Australian people with the same disdain and contempt the US ruling elite treats its own moronic population -- well this ain't America, Kevin!

Perhaps the REAL reason for implementing regressive (internet) information CENSORSHIP now becomes clear!

The latest manufactured poll figures have placed Abbott's conservative opposition in a lead position on a two-party-preferred basis; clearly, 'photo-op, hair dryer' Rudd, has become a well known quantity to Oz voters.

Well, its about bloody time; it was obvious from the start that this pathetic, narcissist was as hollow as a desert log - Rudd's disastrous time in office has confirmed what analysts have known and stated from the outset - this lackey is inept.

Do not think for one instant that the cure is Abbott's conservative opposition; both major parties serve the same interests. Think REAL REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRACY and RESTORE the nation to the people. Regulate BIG Finance, Banks and large Transnational Corporations and divest the rigged, casino stock market of its ability to defraud the public.

China became the world's leading economic power by maintaining control of its currency and concentrating on real production - very sound economic principles.

Contrast China's strategy with Oz leaders that delivered our nation to rogues by floating our currency and DEREGULATING BANKS then borrowing/indebting the nation to the same interests that control the value of our currency!

We can thank the former government for a remedy - new sweeping, two-edged draconian terrorist laws could easily be applied to the treasonous politicians that instituted them and the lackeys that followed in their custard-soaked, 'knee-prints.'

Who are you trying to kid, Rudd? No amount of juggling or kiddie distraction tactics could hide your ineptitudes and failures -- treat Aussies with contempt at your own risk.
