

America's Permanent War Doctrine for the 21st Century

by stan Wednesday, Sep 22 2010, 7:03pm

international / peace/war / commentary

(Who's buying?)

We've heard it in many forms, the "long war" of Dick Cheney; the "crusade" of the moron president, Bush, and of late, "generational war," from Pentagon military - it's a hard sell launched from a multitude of lies, deceit and based on the highly questionable government report on the attacks of 9/11! But regardless of all America's efforts, few are BUYING this ideological garbage except of course the local uneducated, uninformed, fear ridden, American population. The rest of the world views US actions accurately, as CRIMINAL; designed to ROB poor nations of their sovereign wealth.

The CORPORATE mainstream news media is loath to publish the TRUTH; the REAL cost of America's primitive, MASS MURDERING (PNAC) plan for OUR WORLD - millions of innocent civilians dead and millions more displaced and living in torment! Who's next?

With the exception of servile knee-walking, custard-faced, US allied governments like Australia, the UK, France, Germany and Italy, no one with a functioning brain or a vestige of morality subscribes to America's INSANE WAR DOCTRINE.

It may come as a surprise to many but it's OUR World; the majority determine the course of nations and the world. - it does not belong to the nefarious minority that control Washington and other seats of Western governments. THE insane course these minorities have set for OUR WORLD is easily rectified with a little fortitude, organisation and subtle action - withdraw your support!

Think! If your daily actions in any way contribute directly or indirectly to the 'man' then alter your course or at the very least withdraw your active support/sub-scription.

Simple!

All that is required is a little character/bravery; or is that too much to ask these days?

Peace.

Déjà Vu, now America