Humanity is rebelling worldwide to the dictates of elite overlords and petty bureaucrats alike. The small, silent statements of resistance have reached a crescendo, a classic tipping point. Whether it is tax rebellion, free speech, freedom of religion, the freedom to speak out against endless war, women's rights in oppressive regimes, or the freedom to grow one's own non-toxic food, the small defeats and victories have become a sustained chorus of resistance to ever-increasing forces of oppression and control. This chorus has coalesced from the choirs of different nations, different genders, different political affiliations, different races, and different socio-economic positions. This is the ultimate sign of a true tipping point; critical mass has been reached.

The modern pantheon of enemies has now been identified by even the most common of men. The enemies are the Banking and Financial Consortiums; the global elite born and bred from mega-wealth; the academics and economists who disconnect ideas from reality; and the linear thinking scientific and military minds that transform nightmares into hellish realities. These are the groups that every man, woman, and child recognizes instinctively, because they are the same psychopathic personalities regardless of where we find them. Until now these arrogant dictators have assumed that those they view as weak (the masses) would dance to their tune and cower forever.

These cabals/tyrants have vastly underestimated the power of numbers and the exponential factors by which simple numbers can increase to create a tipping point that can cause an overnight 'sea change.' Today, we witness tyranny emerging in its most blatant form: flagrant disregard for international law and convention, contempt and disdain for basic human rights, citizen spies, government COINTELPRO operations against its own citizens; technological surveillance of every stripe, and the jackbooted common thug promoted to the top of the class in order to enforce an increasingly regimented society where independent thought is viewed as a crime.

The good news is that it is already too late for the forces of tyranny; they have had their reign of terror for long enough; the Tipping Point has been reached. The previous fence-straddlers — even from the mainstream media — are now sounding the alarm. True patriots, freedom fighters everywhere who have seen the writing on the wall for a long time are now sounding the charge. Tyranny has fatally wounded itself by its continual pursuit of the lowest common denominator. All that remains is a hollow shell, a carcass without the substance or means to counter a New Humanity moving inexorably toward Freedom.

We are ONE.
