

WTC 7 and WikiLeaks

international / mass media / opinion/analysis

I find it very “annoying” that U.S. agencies would use WikiLeaks to tighten their grip on the Internet – which is bringing down the ruling elite! What I’m saying, Julian, is would you like to dispel the theory that you are just another CIA Psyop by revising your statement on 9/11? My blind black dog knows what nano-thermite is and who manufactures it, not to mention all the overwhelming facts that NY firefighters and the ‘architects and engineers for 9/11 Truth’ have accrued. These people are specialised professionals not conspiracy whackos and they say the government explanation of the 9/11 attacks is ABSURD!

I’m giving you the benefit of the doubt for now but it may be time to release some really compromising data. You say you have something on the criminal banks, well go ahead, Julian, give it your best shot. So far most info you have released actually supports PNAC and the status quo – so go on, tip the applecart Mr Aussie rebel, do your best.

When servile lackey, Kevin Rudd, starts calling for tighter information controls in the U.S., a familiar (9/11) stench begins to pervade the air.

Prove the doubters wrong once and for all, bring the house down, a decisive and DEFINING release of compromising data is Now required, Mr. Assange.
