

The Consequences of Political Disconnect

An Australian political party was slaughtered by the people in a State election yesterday for very good reason - political disconnect!

Today the former Premier of the secular State of NSW left 'church' with her husband and avoided all questions on her historic crushing defeat. I won't hold it against her that she's an American religionist in a secular Australian society; however, I will level my attack at the Corporate-pandering Labor-right faction that placed her in power in one of the most ill-conceived political placements in NSW history.

Firstly, the woman is a bloody yank complete with offensive twang. Secondly, she was inactive in policy implementation and rushed to deceptively unload (PRIVATISE) the State's electrical energy infrastructure resource - a glaring act of manipulation and deception for a 'church-going' (hypocritical American) girl.

Thirdly, and most importantly, she FAILED to REFORM her PARTY and SERVE the interests of the PEOPLE instead of the Corporations!

The PEOPLE predictably RETALIATED en masse to rid their State of UNREPRESENTATIVE, CORRUPT political rule; they accomplished their objective in devastating fashion, recording a historic defeat that will not soon be forgotten. A cogent lesson for all parties that pander to minority Corporate interests and LOSE TOUCH with the MAJORITY ELECTORATE.

No doubt the 'thud of the guillotine' could be heard all the way to the Federal political capital in Canberra where a completely disconnected and incompetent PUPPET Prime Minister continues to push for a GOLDMAN SACHS designed CARBON TAX! [Crushing defeat, here it comes, Julia!]

So, you may well ask, why would Federal Labor continue to pander to MINORITY Corporate interests and not heed the loud message of the people? Simple, they have NO CHOICE, remember what happened when Rudd opposed Murdoch and US wishes, out on his ear by Labor puppets controlled by Washington. Now Gillard, the most treasonous (major military bases) PM in recent memory, gives the Americans everything and anything they want -- there's a good little fellatrix! Her disgusting speech to the US Congress should never be disregarded.

Gillard, or any other Labor leader that pursues Corporatist policies at the expense of average Aussies will suffer a similar fate as that which befell the hapless yank Premier of NSW yesterday.

THE PEOPLE have delivered a very clear message to all Australian politicians. The magnitude of the defeat in NSW was truly awesome; nevertheless, puppet politicians in the capital are stuck between a rock and a hard place; they are aware of public sentiment and realise they cannot dupe the educated local population as easily as US elites dupe the uneducated and uninformed American masses, but Oz politicians are OWNED by their Corporate masters and the decision is not theirs to make! [Do you like Corporate 'democracy' in action, people?]

Gillard will continue to push the POLITICALLY SUICIDAL Corporate CARBON TAX policy regardless of the reality 'on the ground' - the ruling elite considers all politicians to be completely EXPENDABLE (puppets), hence the NEED for the people to reject the major parties and ELECT REAL REPRESENTATIVE INDEPENDENTS to OFFICE in the FUTURE.

How anyone hopes to implement a PENALTY Carbon tax on the PEOPLE while SUBSIDISING the MAJOR POLLUTING CORPORATIONS beggars belief; nevertheless, our shameless, LACKEY PM has no other choice but to try and FAIL!

Resounding defeat notwithstanding, the people of NSW failed to reject the Corporate controlled two party system; HOWEVER, when it becomes obvious that the new conservative NSW leader is full of the same shit as his predecessor, the PEOPLE may act on this new knowledge in time for the next FEDERAL election - would anyone care to make a wager on it?

Australians are not so easily deceived - failure to heed the peoples' wishes earns an appropriate response. Of course, a few decades of information control and substandard education would place the Oz masses in the same category as the dumb, uninformed yank masses, but who has a decade or two up their sleeve these days?

Gillard's Washington masters are using American formulas in Oz - they simply do not work over here - but maybe we shouldn't have let on. But like most Aussies we do enjoy a good fight and the challenge of taking on the odds.

Do ya fuckin' best, you vile, mass murdering, 'septic tank,' VERMIN! We will fight you till the end of time.
