Tokyo Electric directors admitted today that the company had NO idea how long it would be before nuclear reactors at the Fukushima plant could be stabilised and how much damage they were likely to cause. For once they told the ugly truth and revealed their CRIMINAL negligence in the process.

However, in a Corporate controlled world, Corporatists and their political servants function above the law regardless of the seriousness of the crimes they commit. From the civilian holocaust in Iraq, arising from an illegal invasion, to a nuclear catastrophe in Japan, the filth at the top are never held accountable for their crimes while the people continue to be jailed on misdemeanors.

Now is not the time to exact justice from the Corporates in Tokyo Electric but it surely is time to hang the Wall Street Bankers and Financiers responsible for the global economic collapse -- Goldman Sachs executives in particular.

How on earth society allowed the formation of Stateless Transnational Corporations to plunder any targeted nation at will and minimise their tax, legal and other social responsibilities is beyond the comprehension of people raised with a sense of fair play and social responsibility. However, only sociopaths and lying criminals meet the requirements to function in Corporate environments; so it is up to the moral majority to curtail the unrestrained activities of these polluting and destructive Corporations and hold their CEOs and Directors accountable for their obvious crimes -- it is simply impossible to make trillions of dollars profit legally while target nations languish in poverty and/or serious social deprivation.

Today, the historical record confirms the fact that CORPORATISTS are behind all the wars and the most heinous and destructive crimes committed this century.

The sooner we drag these sick avaricious, criminal bastards outside and hang them -- after due process of course -- the sooner the world will know peace, equity and a semblance of sustainability.

The ENEMIES of peace, harmony and stability are CLEARLY identifiable TODAY as the destructive CORPORATIONS and the criminal Corporatist filth that run them. Be advised world, it's time to haul these criminals to trial before they wreak more terror, havoc and destruction upon our world and our societies.
