

Gillard and Abbott: Passive and Aggressive political EXTREMISM

Gillard's spineless Federal Labor government has been scurrying around like the rodents they are looking for a political response to the crushing defeat of Labor in the State of NSW and they think they've found a suitable diversionary tactic with which to distract the Australian public and also use as a defence against the constant barrage of onslaughts by Jesuit trained, Nazi attack dog, opposition leader, Tony Abbott!

Federal Labor political incompetents and morons are presently engaged in mutual back-slapping as they think they've got it - political 'extremism!'

Gillard hopes to contrast the moderate style of the new conservative Premier of NSW with Abbott's snarling and relentless attack strategies. But as usual the BEREFT of any talent whatsoever Labor propagandists or 'perception managers,' as they are known these days, have failed before they've begun.

You see, POLITICAL EXTREMISM comes in TWO DISTINCT FORMS, the aggressive, loud and vocal variety (Abbott) and the PASSIVE, mild, self-diminishing servile form which Gillard displayed so well in her sickening, slathering speech (SUCK) in Washington recently. But both forms are extremism as neither strikes a balance.

Given Gillard's approval in Washington of servile/colonial military occupation in the form of FIVE (5) new, huge American bases and her Corporate-serving push for a PENALTY Carbon tax, WITHOUT so much as a mandate from the Oz electorate, for making Oz a PRIMARY nuclear target and crucifying the public with an additional, horrendous TAX/cost - while SHE SUBSIDISES major Corporate polluters with government assistance -- Gillard now hopes to accuse others of EXTREMISM, ridiculous!

Gillard's PASSIVE form of extremism is far more dangerous than the very overt and obvious form that Abbott displays, as it's a 'soft sell,' which every Madison Ave ad man knows is far more effective.

Fortunately independent analysts are expertly trained and have no difficulty detecting a ruse when they see one, or determining transparent propaganda and obfuscation.

The lesson for the Australian public is very clear; BOTH major parties serve elite MINORITY interests and DO NOT have the peoples' interests at heart. They are owned by the same corporate forces which present the 'illusion of choice' to the public.

Well, REAL choice is exercised by REJECTING BOTH major parties and ELECTING REPRESENTATIVE INDEPENDENTS to office in every National and State election.

Your spin doctors and 'perception managers' are fifth rate, Ms Gillard, you will be joining Kristina on the backbenches if YOU are so lucky - your Federal party is headed for an INEVITABLE and well deserved, crushing defeat.

Any party that acts without a mandate on major issues incurs the wrath of the electorate - not to mention the long list of other failures!
