In Orwell's 1984 prophecy, Big Brother government rules over unquestioning people, incapable of independent thought, who are constantly spied on.

In 1949 there was no Internet, Facebook, Twitter, GPS, etc. Big Brother's spying was done through cameras and microphones in public areas, as in England today, and via television equipped with surveillance devices in homes. The majority succumbed to thought manipulation -- 'perception management' -- and followed government presentations of 'reality!'

Fear and war were used to contain the population, but not even Orwell anticipated Homeland Security feeling up the genitals of air travelers and shopping center customers.

Every day a repetitive "Two Minute Hate" image was broadcast by Big Brother's propaganda ministry; an image of Emmanuel Goldstein, designated as Oceania's Number One Enemy, a fictional propaganda creation of the 'Ministry of Truth,' appeared menacingly on ubiquitous TV screens throughout the realm.

Goldstein was the non-existent "enemy of the state" whose non-existent organization, "The Brotherhood," was Oceania's terrorist threat. The Goldstein fiction was utilised to justify the existence of "Homeland Security," which violated all known Rights of citizens in order to keep Oceania's subjects "safe."

Their 'USE BY' date fast approaches; Justice will be served in the end -- it is INEVITABLE!*

Share this story if you would hasten the end of the nefarious criminal cabals that instigate needless wars, misinform, divide and financially enslave the masses today.
