

The Weevil and the Prick

national / social/political / commentary

The impatient Australian treasurer Peter (supercilious prick) Costello has finally done it; he has openly exposed the Australian Prime Minister as a bald-faced LIAR. Costello did however attempt to take the high moral ground by stating he would never have made certain comments if others hadn't done so first, his comments were to set the "record straight", he said. Costello confirmed that a deal existed to turn the Leadership/Prime Ministership over to him after Howard served one and one half terms in office. Costello's statement bluntly contradicts the statement of the Prime Minister who is on record as stating that neither he nor the treasurer had entered into any deal regarding a hand over of power. [Déjà vu, Bob and Paul - there is no intoxication like the intoxication of power!]

Two Party System Failure

The 'news' that John Howard, the Australian Prime Minister, is a LIAR has 'rocked' the nation. A 'dismayed' public clinging to the one redeeming trait they imagined their 'fearless' leader to possess (integrity) is devastated! The Australian Prime Minister now stands naked as the most duplicitous, ignominious, lying coward that Australia has produced - God save the Queen!

However, it is the pretender's character that is now in question! Costello has confirmed that he is not to be trusted as a team player or a future leader. The Liberal Party is left with no one of integrity to rule the nation except perhaps, Bronwyn Bishop! Who could fault Reichsmarschall Bronwyn as the perfect choice for Prime Minister of Australia, with perhaps Amanda (black heart) Vanstone as second in line? Vanstone is without peer as the most callous and heartless bitch who ever walked the floor of parliament - the perfect Liberal choice.

The emperor is now without his underwear.

The Labor 'opposition' is overjoyed at the prospect of gaining some ground against the ruling party. Costello's revelation/gift is like manna from heaven for the politically inept opposition. The present opposition is the most politically uninspired and bereft since Federation. In over ten tiresome years they have not been able to develop a winning strategy against Howard – who should be easy to topple. Howard is a shameless coward, lackey, pathological liar, deceitful, duplicitous, despicable, grotesque, servile imp – abhorrent (repulsive) to women and loathsome to men. Why is there is no real opposition when victory goes begging? “Ask George”, I hear you say!

The United States of Imperialism or ‘the new world order’, if you prefer is presently constructing two ADDITIONAL military bases in the far north and north west Australia – that is the hard reality of Australia’s new status as COLONY! Howard has made a gift of the nation and its people to the yanks (you asked for it).

The present leadership wrangle/comedy is pure distraction for the slave population. Howard was not an anomaly as many red-blooded Aussies thought. He is a true reflection of the present population of cringing cowards, a leader with whom the people can identify. If the people elect the same person to office on three separate occasions, who could refute the people’s choice of leader?

Regardless of the above or the present reality, Australia could easily regain its sovereignty, we all know what is required prior to that occurrence. But perhaps the really comical aspect of today’s ‘news’ relates to one of Costello’s comments, “..I took him [Howard] at his word”, Costello said. That statement alone disqualifies him from any future position of responsibility.

Costello has not shot himself in the foot with today’s antics; a clean headshot has been self-inflicted. However, the best is yet to come, and that is the spectacle of Labor fumbling another golden opportunity.

This is Australia talking and we definitely deserve what we get!
