

Looting and mindless destruction suits existing ruling Elites

Before we proceed I would remind everyone that real anarchy is a non-hierarchical system of self-government sustained by MUTUAL COOPERATION -- which implies [for] the GOOD OF ALL! The only social exception to that rule would be self-centred, self-serving vermin that exploit their fellow human beings. Today that category of human filth is represented by Banksters, Corporatists and the puppet politicians that serve them. NATO and the US war machine commit the most heinous war and other CRIMES against humanity on a daily basis in order to satisfy the insatiable appetite minority elites have for accruing 'wealth' or turning a profit. Let us today make a CLEAR distinction between mutually assisting groups and the EXPLOITATIVE, unrepresentative, minority CRIMINAL elites that currently rule our respective societies.

The eruption of social indignation in the UK, Europe, Middle East and elsewhere is entirely warranted; far too long have minority ruling elites relegated certain sectors of the community to a social existence devoid of hope or promise. In fact, British and other regulatory authorities have HABITUALLY victimised the underprivileged, as they present as easy targets with limited resources/abilities to socially defend themselves or legally retaliate.

The GROSS injustices and social limitations imposed on the underprivileged over considerable time has resulted in 'spontaneous,' violent, retaliatory demonstrations today.

However, after the initial exuberance and demonstrations of social assertion it is now time to gather unfocused energies and focus on constructive goals and outcomes -- otherwise the chance for REAL social change would be forfeited to existing power elites that would utilise chaotic violence and instability to implement and INCREASE oppressive and unjust social policies.

The need to rid society of parasitic ruling elites and the puppet politicians that serve them remains a necessity! Be vigilant at all times and beware of elements that would hijack social movements and neutralise them by creating division or blurring directions, as has occurred in Egypt.

The potential for positive social change today is greater than it has been for centuries; elites have demonstrated their ineptitude by trashing the international economy, committing (US/NATO) overt war crimes and attempting to sell the extraordinarily absurd - evidence devoid -- story of the Bin Laden raid/assassination in Pakistan.

Social change is only a matter of improving on the current moronic formula and removing parasitic influences from positions of social influence.

Plan, FOCUS and organise before every action.

For numerous reasons [the thorough INCOMPETENCE of PUPPET governments] VICTORY is inevitable.

We are Many - We are ONE - We ARE UNSTOPPABLE!
