

Running for the US Presidency

Over recent years it has become painfully obvious to the international community that the two primary qualities of successful candidates to the office of President of the USA are, wait for it, borderline illiteracy and insincerity -- smooth-talking LIARS and/or nutters have occupied the White House for far too long. A brief review of recent presidents since and including Reagan verifies the FACT!

Crazy eyes, Bachmann

It beggars belief that lobotomised, extremist politicians like Palin and Bachmann are able to garner huge support from the broader lobotomised American population. (I think i've just answered my next question). How is a nuclear superpower that also controls the WORLD'S reserve currency realistically going to survive if imbeciles like Bachmann, Palin and LIARS like Romney and Obama are supported and function from high office or positions of social influence?

The stark reality is these people are CLEARLY extremely dishonest and/or limited, and I'm being kind! American politicians are either reprehensible LIARS, lackeys to MINORITY interests or dummies controlled by UNREPRESENTATIVE Bankers and Corporatists. Whatever you wish to call that political system it surely isn't DEMOCRACY!

A CLEARLY challenged, socially deteriorating nation CANNOT hope to survive on that basis and neither can a WORLD (that would survive) afford to ENGAGE a nation in such RAPID DECLINE! The recent imbecilic and absurd debt ceiling crisis in Congress more than amply demonstrates the rapid deterioration of REASON, which has undermined the very foundation of the nation. To date no real remedy or positive alternatives are evident on the American political horizon.

And so, In the absence of reason, integrity and MORALITY -- heinous WAR CRIMES committed almost daily in illegal wars -- the international community would have NO CHOICE but to REVIEW its relationship with what has CLEARLY become a PATHOLOGICAL nation headed for CERTAIN RUIN!
