

Solution to the Impending Banking Crisis

by tyco Monday, Oct 17 2011, 11:29pm

international / imperialism / opinion/analysis

Wake up, the banks are broke, INSOLVENT and ready to fall hard. First Europe then the US, Asia and the rest -- the global Reserve Banking System has FAILED. [In reality the Reserve Banking Cartel created the crisis via its financial (non-productive) profiteering and FRAUD. It bled the global coffers dry and now it (very temporarily) sustains itself on printing toilet paper money -- LUDICROUS!]

A warning to ALL nations that would survive the looming crisis.

A REAL solution would be to return to a SOVEREIGN Banking system backed by national enterprises -- traditional, non-speculative banking, in other words.

Gain absolute control of the nation's currency and remove it from speculative currency markets BY FIXING ITS VALUE according to production and trading criteria/requirements.

Remove all NATIONAL assets from the reach of CRIMINAL Wall St and other criminal, insider 'markets' -- there is no such thing as a 'free market' -- there never was.

Place emphasis on local needs/requirements and local production/employment. And never be eager to sell the nation's FINITE resources to rapacious Transnationals for a fraction of their REAL WORTH.

In essence baton down the economic, banking and currency 'hatches' and you will ride through the crisis with relative safety. Watch the economies of nations that remain connected to the criminal Reserve Banking System fail like soap bubbles on a sunny, windy day -- you have been warned and advised.

O! And remove ALL PUPPET politicians from GOVERNMENT, we recommend hanging -- regardless of stripe they are ALL treasonous lackeys serving minority Corporatist and criminal Bankster interests.

Only a return to traditional values and traditional NATIONAL economic principles offers a defence against the impending global economic COLLAPSE -- make no mistake.

I really do not wish to be writing a 'I told you so' story in the near future -- restore representative democracy and return our nations to proven traditional formulas/values for a sustainable, successful future -- and let the dead bury the dead.