

Google (and other media) Suppress Ron Paul

Elites must be terrified at the prospect of a FAIR election!

The story linked below covers Ron Paul introducing legislation on the floor of the House to REPEAL the plainly Nazi 'indefinite detention without trial or charge' provision in the NDAA, which shameless PUPPET president Obama signed into law on New Year's eve -- dig that for timing -- notwithstanding that Obama said he would veto the provision! But the WORLD has learned over the past four years that Obama reneges on all his promises and pledges, moreso than any other politician ON EARTH (suckers) -- so much for president 'INTEGRITY!'

Congressman Ron Paul

But that is not the issue though it is clearly related to the suppression of information relating to Ron Paul.

I am the Sysdamin of the Cleaves Newswire and my duties include monitoring the logs for any unusual patterns; well, my jaw dropped when I encountered the unique 'hit' rate of the linked Ron Paul story.

Most newly posted stories attract hundreds of hits in the first 24 hours of posting and then go on to possibly attract thousands of hits over time. In STARK contrast to this normal trend pattern established over years, the Ron Paul story has attracted a numbing FOUR (4) ONLY unique hits in 24 hours, which clearly indicates DATA SUPPRESSION from search engines -- there is no other rational explanation for the absurdly low hit rate! One need only consider the number of Ron Paul supporters and various other factors such as RSS syndication to realise there is something drastically wrong with 4 fuckin' hits in 24 hours -- I would add that other stories posted in the same period are attracting the usual hit rates!

The obvious conclusion here applies: PEOPLE, there is a real WAR in progress in your own living rooms; an INFORMATION war for the control of your minds.

As we are ALL aware, it is impossible to make correct decisions without considering all the available INFORMATION and if INFORMATION is 'censored/managed' or 'doctored' in any way (as SOPA wished) then erroneous decisions -- that clearly suit 'information managers' -- are made while leaving the public with the 'impression' that they have exercised their 'freedom of choice', what a tragic joke!

On the bright side, this absurd information suppression CLEARLY indicates the degree to which elitists FEAR Ron Paul and if YOU would fight these nefarious, criminal elitist forces, then simply VOTE for Ron Paul; notwithstanding his naive attitude to government oversight and his other failings; BUT consider his positive points, especially that he is NOT owned by Bankers and Corporate interests as are the vast majority of Washington politicians.

The powers fear Ron Paul for good reason -- Ron Paul is a defender of the Constitution, therefore PEOPLE'S rights and liberties and is clearly anti-imperialist!

It is IMPOSSIBLE to do worse than the crop of puppet presidents from Clinton through to the most servile of them all, reprehensible LIAR and sell-out, Obama.

A final note to Google and other data suppressors -- 'every move you make, every breath you take, WE are WATCHING Y-O-U! The digital medium is a TWO-EDGED SWORD, morons! See you in court soon enough, Mr Eric 'Bilderberg' Schmidt! And I can assure you, you will be sacrificed because you are a reactive fairy and grossly INCOMPETENT.

Google chairman, Eric 'Bilderberg' Schmidt
