The true character behind the video con

In a fateful twist one of the con-artists responsible (Jason Russell) for the Kony 2012 viral video was arrested by San Diego police for 'masturbating in public' and 'acting strangely,' really! The tragic, psychologically alienated, clearly twisted, corporate pawn can't even get himself laid!

Disturbed Christian wanker: Jason Russell

As stated many times previously the digital medium is a two-edged sword and it didn't take the world long to digitally expose and disseminate the FRAUD that was the Kony 2012 video con; Corporate/CFR media 'perception management' tricks are well known today. And it takes more than moron managers like Oprah and Jolie to sell an odorous turd to the public. Careful who you support, celebs; public image is everything in your business and the shine comes off, fast!

What a pathetic attempt at pure LIES and social management -- better luck next time, wankers!
