

Don't Kid Yourself!

Society has always reflected the mass consciousness -- in all its beauty or ugliness, whatever the case may be. 'Subscribers,' members of society reinforce its values either positively (support) or negatively (acquiescence or ineffective opposition). Surely it would be the height of absurdity to oppose what you essentially are by negative 'reaction' or violent opposition! But that is PRECISELY what the US executive and other puppet authorities do for their ruling Banker and Corporatist masters. In fact, ignorant ruling powers are fighting forces they have created themselves with outrageously unfair, inequitable and imbalanced 'solutions.' A house divided cannot stand - the house today is of course humanity living on this tiny planet.

At times I feel I am writing epitaphs for humanity, everyone should easily appreciate that the current course of permanent war, mass murder, plunder, social enslavement and economic fraud is nonviable and completely unsustainable even in the short to medium term; yet that is precisely the course sociopathic minority ruling elites have chosen for humanity -- since they quietly seized control of ALL western democracies.

Other more constructive, humane, viable and sustainable solutions go begging and are never given the opportunity to see the mainstream light of day because a few, very few, sick interests do not wish to affect their bottom line! If you required a measure of the profound pathology of criminal elites, you now have it!

VIABLE alternatives and harmonious solutions exist whereby society, indeed humanity, could live in relative peace and harmony on a sustainable planet; all that is required is for the masses to turn away from destructive, suicidal directions that have been plotted for them by lunatics and homicidal maniacs and return to competent and sane real representative government. Restored future governments would be comprised of the best, most competent creative minds society has to offer, not the treasonous, servile, incompetent puppets that occupy high office today!

Viewing society as a mechanism/organism whereby the masses are duped and 'fear-managed' into willingly enslaving themselves is viewing a social system headed for complete ruin, a system that has no hope whatsoever of enduring.

However, before any positive change has a hope of succeeding the current problem of poisonous lunatics and criminals that currently hold sway over OUR destinies, MUST be completely remedied (ERADICATED) - a not very difficult task, 'all things' considered!

In the meantime, we should ALL be careful to only install into office those representatives that possess capable minds and have truly sustainable, non-violent, non-destructive, policies to offer humanity/society - it may also prove expedient if the existing 'sacred economic cow' is sacrificed in the interests of a viable future - today's destructive economic mindset/forces are the cause of ALL the problems that beset humanity and the planet.

The question now is whether humanity is 'up for' revolutionary social change or whether it will continue on the easy road to complete slavery and eventual destruction/annihilation?
