

Unravelling

by gan Monday, Jun 18 2007, 10:19pm

international / imperialism / commentary

As the wall approaches, or rather as we speed recklessly toward it, it serves no purpose to analyse how a nation, trillions of dollars in debt, remains in a position to offer billions to its enemies and try and buy its way out of inevitable collapse. The buy-off strategy is not new, what is new however is that the offers have been rejected - no amount of money could buy Kosovo from Serbia, what are a people without a heart or national identity? Condi Rice, with Israel's whole-hearted support, today openly offered to buy-off Palestinians in the vain hope that western influence could be maintained in the region. For numerous reasons this strategy will also fail.

Neocoon cake proves inedible

America and financial elites are beginning to realise that certain values are beyond the reach of the dollar, OR THE BULLET! Ironically it was an American who cried, "give me liberty or give me death," that cry best expresses the attitude and emotions of the people at war with America today.

It should now be obvious to all - including the divorced from reality neo-cons - that militaristic neo-colonial expansionism has failed. However, late is not better than never, as it is the people that resist who are acutely aware that the beast is haemorrhaging. When surrender is not an option the invader must either eliminate the entire population or retreat. The elephant is staggering and ready to fall.

Ho Chi Minh stated it and America was ousted, "you will NEVER succeed." It appears that America is a hard learner. Today, America faces a broad spectrum of enemies from diverse cultures around the globe - the myth that Islam is the only opposition can finally be put to rest. From the (South) Americas to Russia, the Balkans and throughout Asia, America is DETESTED for the murdering, marauding, parasitic nation that it is! Wherever America attempts to exploit the resources of other nations local people will fight to protect what is rightfully theirs! America has learnt that it is unable to exploit and plunder if locals target personnel and destroy the infrastructure required to extract resources.

America is unable to occupy successfully so now it attempts to buy its way out of trouble! Is it so difficult to understand that you cannot kill my brother, rape my wife and daughter and torture my son then hope to compensate me with your filthy money?

Soon America will be forced to utilise its last card, tactical nuclear weapons, in the vain hope that it would then be able to secure its needs. However, that strategy will only increase resistance (from all quarters) and facilitate a retaliatory nuclear response that will not end until the pariah is rased to the ground - no single nation has ever prevailed against the world.

The bereft neo-cons have bungled everything from the start; it is now abundantly clear to all that collapse is imminent. The question is in which direction will commercial and corporate interests run?

Cleaves Alternative News. <http://cleaves.lingama.net/news/story-545.html>