The Oz press gallery - a gallery of cringing drunks, no-talents and gutless wonders; do any of you remember chasing a story till it busts wide open? It's called INVESTIGATIVE journalism you bunch of cowardly editorial slaves! Run with a story, try it, it always reaps results. You could start with the "aluminium tubing" LIE which leads to the whole orchestrated deception of our involvement in the criminal intervention in Iraq. It ends with Howard and a few senior ministers held to account! 'Ozat for sure-fire winning material, you bunch of gastrics? Is there one among the recidivist drunks and pill popping nervous wrecks that has not completely lost the art of investigating and reporting a story without fear or favour? Have you forgotten your responsibility to the public and to DEMOCRACY, you bunch of trainee fascist propagandists? How could you allow the likes of Murdoch to destroy the free spirit of reporting, you bunch of dead losses?

Peter 'supercilious prick' Costello

Featured in the local rag, "the Australian," is a classic non-news story designed to keep REAL news off the pages; it relates to the VERY WELL KNOWN dislike the treasurer has for his boss the Prime Minister and some idiotic threats of mounting a challenge for leadership. Such remarks made at a drunken dinner with three 'sober' journos hardly carries any weight. Is this a pathetic attempt by a spineless profession to regain some credibility? Perhaps pursuing the REAL stories of the new economic feudalism, Iraq holocausts, America's failed bid for world domination, the elimination of democracy, civil rights and free speech, the impending economic debacle and that's just to name a few. The world is saturated with newsworthy stories but EDITORIAL RESTRICTIONS prevent cowering journos of today from plying their trade - you bunch of withering wash-outs!

The REAL story is the planned internal attack on the US with a dirty (nuke) bomb, much like the previous black flag ops that rally nations and allow for open slather responses, and coincidentally, save failing governments!

Addendum:

The other great story of the day is the (no-choice) choice between Rudd and Howard; both

'contenders' already tailored to maintain our slave status with the US! 'I love a sun burnt cringing coward masquerading as an Aussie - let's pretend there's a real distinction and choice at the next federal election shall we!

I read the arse-wipe masquerading as news today, O boy!

Do not wonder at the droves seeking info from blogs and other alternative news sources.
