Prior to the present 'deliberations and discussions' regarding Kosovo, we should not forget that Bush and his war whore, Rice, stated emphatically that independence for the tiny province was "certain." Moronic and inept as such comments are they are nevertheless revealing. Serbia need have no illusions as to who it is that wishes to obliterate it from Europe and the world. Not content with the destruction of greater Yugoslavia, America pursues Serbia with a mania characteristic of psychopaths. Perhaps it is an unconscious measure of respect for Serbs and perhaps America is right to be afraid!

Samo Sloga Srbina Spasava

Serbs threatened with annihilation are able to take the battle - quite literally - to the throats of the Americans on continental USA. Americans never learn from history; as a consequence they are condemned to repeat the monumental blunders of the past. Many powerful nations throughout history have attempted to annihilate Serbia, all have failed. How is it that a tiny but fiercely independent, warrior nation is able to repel and prevail against empires and other aggressive nations? That is something America will learn if it attempts to tear the heart and soul of the nation from the Serbian people.

Be advised!
