

Benazir Bhutto killed: what price a human life?

by gan Thursday, Dec 27 2007, 5:42am

international / social/political / news report

Benazir Bhutto shot and killed while campaigning in Rawalpindi yesterday!

Inadequate security measures at a campaign rally allowed an assassin to discharge five shots at Bhutto one of which penetrated her neck killing her. After discharging his weapon the suicide gunman detonated a bomb-belt killing himself and at least ten people in close proximity.

Pervez alive, Benazir dead! Goodbye to both

Bhutto's death marks the beginning of the end of CORRUPT DYNASTIC RULE worldwide - take note the Clinton and Bush ruling families!

It is a chill wind that blows from the searing subcontinent today.

We regret the death of Benazir Bhutto and we regret the deaths of thousands of innocent children in Iraq. George W Bush in a most blatant act of hypocrisy condemned the 'terrorists' for assassinating Bhutto. What should we call Bush and his coalition partners after their criminal invasion of Iraq, which resulted in one million civilian deaths? What is the appropriate label for John Bolton and Condi Rice for allowing Israeli forces to slaughter hundreds of children in South Lebanon? The world is no longer impressed with the tired rhetoric and propaganda of Bush, Brown and other western leaders.

We regret the many thousands killed by corrupt rulers worldwide. The obscene wealth of the few is a direct result of the exploitation of many. The people of the East are the first of a growing tide to take up arms and fight the forces that enslave, exploit and murder them.

We also regret the partisan western media for not pursuing those guilty of mass murder in Iraq and other regions around the globe. We profoundly regret the callousness of rulers who imagine they are able to exploit their fellow human beings with impunity.

In situations where moral and legal institutions fail to deliver justice the people eventually act. We are witnessing the breakdown of corrupt rule around the globe - this is not an exaggeration!

It is no longer safe for any leader guilty of mass murder and exploitation. We hope you find life pleasing in your walled enclosures and crystal towers! Your ill-gotten wealth only serves to imprison you. Be advised, "no man is an island!"

Bhutto's death is a clear warning to all corrupt politicians.

REPRESENTATIVE leadership is the only safe course for the future!

Corrupt ruling elites beware it is the beginning of the end of your poisonous and murderous rule - WORLDWIDE.

[Allowing coalition leaders to remain free after their guilt has been exposed to the entire world can only reap an appropriate response.]

We are ONE

<http://www.nytimes.com/2007/12/28/world/asia/28bhutto.html>

Cleaves Alternative News. <http://cleaves.lingama.net/news/story-856.html>