

Bhutto assassination update!

Pakistan's interior ministry is in frantic damage control in the wake of Benazir Bhutto's assassination. In a futile attempt to extinguish the flames of rebellion, the interior ministry today claimed that Benazir Bhutto died as a result of bumping her head on the roof of the vehicle in which she was travelling. They also claimed that no bullet or shrapnel wounds were found on her body! 'No doubt,' and I had breakfast with John F Kennedy -- he was shot with a bullet that could turn corners!

Perhaps Bhutto is not really dead or maybe she will rise from the dead on the third day, notwithstanding her Muslim background. But if Bush and his allies are able to murder one million innocent civilians with impunity - then why not! The world in which we live today is characterised by the most preposterous lies! Have you heard the one about an illegal military invasion based on fantasy WMD or the oil grab dressed up as spreading 'liberty, democracy and freedom?'

No doubt a future report will reveal that Bhutto is not really dead and has been seen having coffee with Jim Morrison.

If the world stands idly by and allows the most heinous crime (holocaust) of the century to go unpunished do YOU think the situation is likely to deteriorate?

God bless America, the gangster of the world!

What is actually occurring in the world today is that people (not states) are fighting their oppressors and exploiters - that is the ACCURATE news of the day!

Jim Morrison
