Who is the leader you have when you don't have a leader, why Kevin Rudd, of course? Remember how that little Queensland bureaucrat 'caved' and back-stepped on every tiny issue he imagined would lose him a vote prior to the elections? True to 'character,' excuse me, that little shit has NO character! 'True to form' Rudd has caved on the promise to monitor the Japanese whale slaughter in the Southern Oceans.

The government surveillance ship remains in dock while the Japanese fleet plies its dastardly trade. Other feeble 'arrangements' made by the government to monitor the fleet have been exposed as shams! Seems our little Kevin is frightened of offending the Japanese. Perhaps we should take a quick trip down memory lane and draw his attention to the deceitful, heartless and cruel Japanese samurai culture that is responsible for the Nanjing massacre and countless atrocities committed during WWII.

The heinous acts committed by the Japanese are not accidental, they are expressions of a CULTURAL DISPOSITION, which today finds expression in the whale slaughter and mocking the international community!

The racist, supremacist attitude of the Japanese and the disdain they display toward the international community is evident to all. Let's not forget that Japan is also behind the billion-dollar ILLEGAL tuna fishing trade! Rudd's decision to apply pressure on the Japanese whaling fleet would have attracted universal support had he followed through, but one little comment by the leader of the opposition sent Rudd scurrying back to his mouse hole.

Rudd forgets that we would actually be doing Japan a FAVOUR by drawing attention to its highly unpopular whale slaughter. The leader of the opposition was simply playing politics and Rudd bit like a white pointer; now the entire world is aware that Rudd is totally without balls - pathetic! Good luck with the Indonesians, Kevin - if you are unable to stand your ground in situations that attract popular support what hope have you when confronted with critical issues?

The world now has your measure, Kevin, every time you show your cowardly face, the world will piss on it!

Australia cannot afford to allow this man to remain in office for the full term; something must be done!
