

Demented America

They were never meant to influence the direction of the nation - demented American religionists, rapturists, Southern Baptists, evangelicals and other assorted empty-heads have always been organised by religion to satisfy the needs of the State and serve the interests of an enlightened ruling elite that could care less for the fantasies of religion.

Walking on water, 'definitely'

The title is not too harsh, in today's world of high literacy and enlightened thinking, anyone who believes that virgins give birth or that dead people return to life and ascend to the clouds like rocket ships is retarded, insane or both!

We are easily able to demonstrate the mindlessness of Christians. According to the Bible Christian believers are impervious to poisons and immune to the venom of poisonous snakes, which is of course ludicrous - the challenge remains open to all religious leaders to prove otherwise; cyanide and the bite of an Australian taipan will drop any scurrilous, lying, religious bastard on the spot!

Religionists were originally designed to be a resource, a self-policing social resource readymade for exploitation by educated ruling elites - too easy!

Bush and his handlers harnessed the imbecile vote to win the presidency and maintain him in office; though today we haven't heard dubya spouting his religious rubbish to the press or to other world leaders, who view his ramblings as symptoms of mental disease. Imagine, the leader of the once most powerful nation in the world having conversations with 'God' - by his own admission - for fuck's sake!

However, Bush is made to look like a rationalist by the thousands of mindless morons who inhabit the American Bible belt. Organised, these apocalyptic, nihilists are the most dangerous group of people on the earth today, second to none! Faced with the slightest pressure religionists resort to biblical solutions, which are all LIFE NEGATING and destructive; religion is all about death and the absurd belief in an afterlife! The world is facing an extremely critical period and cannot afford to have death-loving fantasists in power or in any other position of responsibility/influence – that is the point of this short article.

The demented, retrogressive USA has two religionists OPENLY RUNNING FOR PRESIDENT, Mitt 'mormon' Romney and Mike 'evangelical' Huckabee – be very concerned.

Both these men should be disqualified and scheduled rather than allowed to run for office; religion is a symptom of mental pathology/disease not a desirable qualification! Mental incompetence could easily be demonstrated to a panel of government psychiatrists, notwithstanding the incompetence of the current president, dubya Bush.

Whatever you may think of religion there is no avoiding the reality that religionists are the most unsuitable candidates for facing the challenges of the future and the challenges of State. Religion offers no constructive solutions it only offers escapism, mental disease and death. However, as an indicator of unsuitability it is extremely useful!
