

Confirmed: Kosovo secession designed to destabilise Russia

The western backed illegal Kosovo 'government' of Muslim KLA terrorist, Hashim Thaci, is set to secede from Serbia in days according to latest reports. NATO and western forces are pouring troops and support personnel into the breakaway province as I write. However, it has now become exceedingly clear the tiny province does not warrant all this fuss and risk. It has become clear that western backed secessionist moves in Kosovo have been designed to create/trigger turmoil in other ethnically disproportionate regions, particularly in Russia.

The west hopes to spark trouble in Russia by sanctioning an illegal precedent in Kosovo. Well, the 'cat is out of the bag!' If it's the third world war you want in EUROPE then that's what you will get! Better to fight offshore NOW than onshore, LATER.

Western European nations begged for this result, I can imagine future holiday brochures - have you seen Paris, London, Berlin and Brussels glowing in the dark?

Russia and China are poised for action in support of their ally, Serbia and insist that international LAW must be observed. The legal right is with Serbia and its allies - no surprise, as the U.S. and its allies have been systematically flouting the law since the illegal Iraq intervention - there is no doubt as to the identity of the worlds most criminal nations today.

"Hashim Thaci said the date [for secession] had been coordinated with both Washington and Brussels .." Have no doubts that Thaci is a puppet serving larger Western interests, he doesn't dare make his own decisions, as has been clearly evident throughout this entire debacle. The territorial integrity of all European nations must be observed and enforced, if necessary. The illegal secession amounts to a declaration of war on Serbia; the resilient Serbian nation will no doubt respond as it has many times in the past - freedom or death!

China and Russia are acutely aware of the manoeuvres of criminal western leaders, however, they hope that reason and common sense will prevail. The alternative is an underground war of silent blinding flashes, unfortunately! What do you suppose people do when they are threatened and attacked by overwhelming force, they equalise of course - can you think of an appropriate equaliser against criminals that already boast the first holocaust of the century?

No overt overhead attacks, only unidentifiable RESULTS - what is the point of declaring mindless war on tiny Balkan nations if your own home is vaporised or worse - there is worse!

Why would western powers so flagrantly assault Serbia, unless of course they are led by imbeciles and lunatics - does anyone come to mind?

Events in the Balkans have long determined the course of Europe and this latest imbecilic 'strategy' from the west is just another demonstration of failed imperial ideology.

Prior to this we fought empires from the East today we fight empires of the West - we have always prevailed. Only fools would attempt to destroy Serbia and its people - THERE IS NO SERBIA WITHOUT KOSOVO!
