

Kosovo: illegal independence but at what price?

What price is the US and NATO willing to pay for supporting a flagrantly illegal secession in the Balkans? No one knows exactly but it's sure to be higher than anyone anticipated! Only the moronic Americans would support such an inflammatory move in this extremely volatile region - oil and gas pipelines notwithstanding.

Balkan connection -- Thaci, Jouchner, Gen. Jackson, Ceku, Gen. Clarke

It should not be forgotten that international law and UN resolution 1244 support Serbia's sovereign right to defend its territories. Open warfare, however, is the least likely option for Serbia. Serbs have developed their tactical skills over the centuries and will no doubt retaliate in their own way and in their own time.

The question is will NATO follow the US down a road to certain defeat and is Europe ready to accept responsibility for an illegal unilateral secession? The US and NATO have created so many enemies over the past decade it would be almost impossible to determine which group/s are responsible for retaliatory attacks!

Military academies throughout the world consider Afghans, Vietnamese and Serbs to be formidable enemies in any conflict. These cultures are ferociously independent and have been fighting invading and occupying forces for centuries!

In view of the lessons of history moronic America imagines it is able to prevail against Serbs in the Balkans and the Pashtun fighters of Afghanistan -- truly a divorced from reality ambition!

Notwithstanding the destabilising effect and overt illegality of the anticipated secession of Kosovo by Muslim criminal syndicates and their allies, the sheer stupidity of American 'foreign policy' beggars belief!

Regardless of any unilateral declaration of 'independence' by heroin smuggling criminal syndicates one thing is assured, the price will be high - the utter ruin of the USA is anticipated on a number of fronts, military and economic! "What a day for a daydream." [Nightmare!]
