

The Proof is in the Pic

by patriot Tuesday, Feb 12 2008, 11:37am

international / miscellaneous / opinion/analysis

If nothing else, right-wing conservatives have proven beyond doubt that populations will tolerate monstrous crimes from their leaders particularly if the means for remedial action are removed or corrupt.

The picture (above) reminds us there is no substitute for action. When the media becomes the event the event becomes the media - in other words the more talk/chatter on a subject the less action it attracts - paradoxical but verifiable!

'Chatter' has replaced action; the media no longer reports after an event 'on' an event; it has become a substitute for the event!

Question: Where do you go when State agencies, police, military, judiciary and the entire legal/regulatory State apparatus has failed the people?

Answer: To your gun cabinet!