

Old men - Old World Order

George H Bush has endorsed Republican front-runner, John McCain -- one senile old fart supporting another. The U.S. is going from one easily manipulated retard, Dubya Bush, to a 'what day is it,' easily manipulated senile old man? If a picture is worth a thousand words, this one is worth a few more! The image is vividly clear, its message is past tense and antiquated!

McCain with H Bush

Old men past their best years are chemically inclined to arrive at solutions compatible with their own state of pending death and decomposition. If there ever was an argument for a mandatory retirement age of sixty, this picture provides a wealth of support!

Let's have a quick look at George H's 'new world order' of destabilisation, war, plunder, re-drawing Europe's borders, sanctioning torture, etc; far too many crimes and disasters to list; all brought to you courtesy of H's demented son 'W'! With McCain as President it would only get worse!

For those who imagine the Dems will save them, forget it! Neither party rules the USA, Billary Clinton is Bush with a twat and pants; Obama will either do as he's told or be shot - that's America in action, as history is my witness.

The world is a very small place today; the pressing question for all nations is whether the world can afford an interfering, belligerent, rogue nation like America. America's 'effort' over the past decade leaves no doubt; the free world needs America like it needs a hole in the head! However, whether we like it or not America has a reputation for rabid interference in the affairs of other nations - whatever it takes to put 'sugar and bananas' on the table and fill the tank with gas!

Say goodbye to Hollywood, New York, Washington, etc Based on previous experience and irrefutable evidence, America must be nuked if the world is to have a chance at PEACE in the future.

There is no avoiding it -- better sooner than later!
